As the doors to the 1984-85 Robert E. Lee High School year opened, students faced a changing system in various aspects. It began on an early date, August 20, which was the first of the adjustments. Prior to the opening of school, Americans experienced a special summer, as Los Angeles hosted the 1984 summer Olympics. Competition was at its peak, and capturing American's hearts, Mary Lou Retton stunned the nation by taking the gold in the women's all-around gymnastics competition. The United States ended the games with the most medals ever to be won by a single nation, obtaining 83 gold, 61 silver, and 30 bronze.

Upon returning to Lee, students observed the beginning results and improvements of the six million dollar expansion at Lee. The school followed the day to day construction of the new gym, locker rooms, and swimming pool.

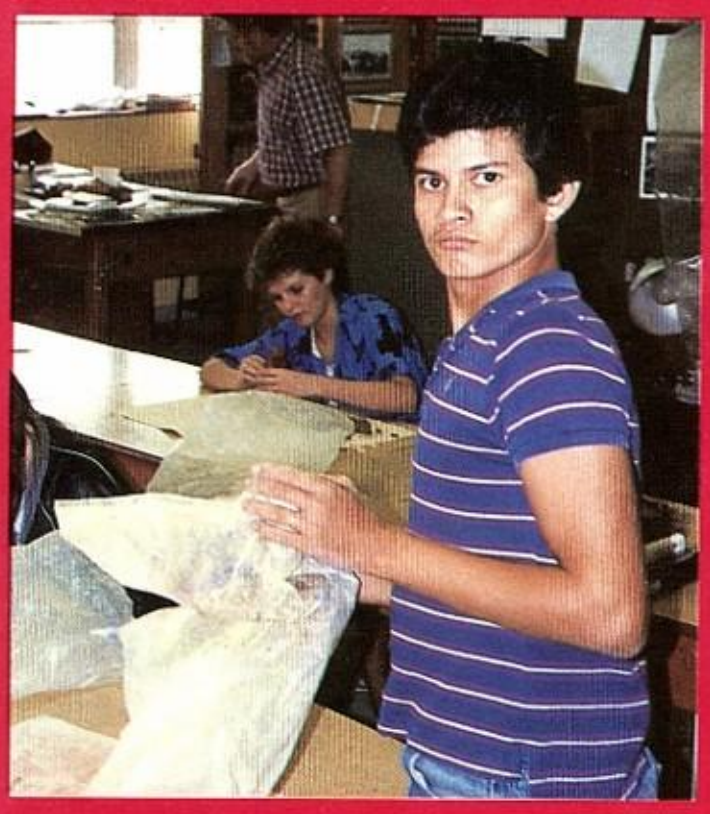
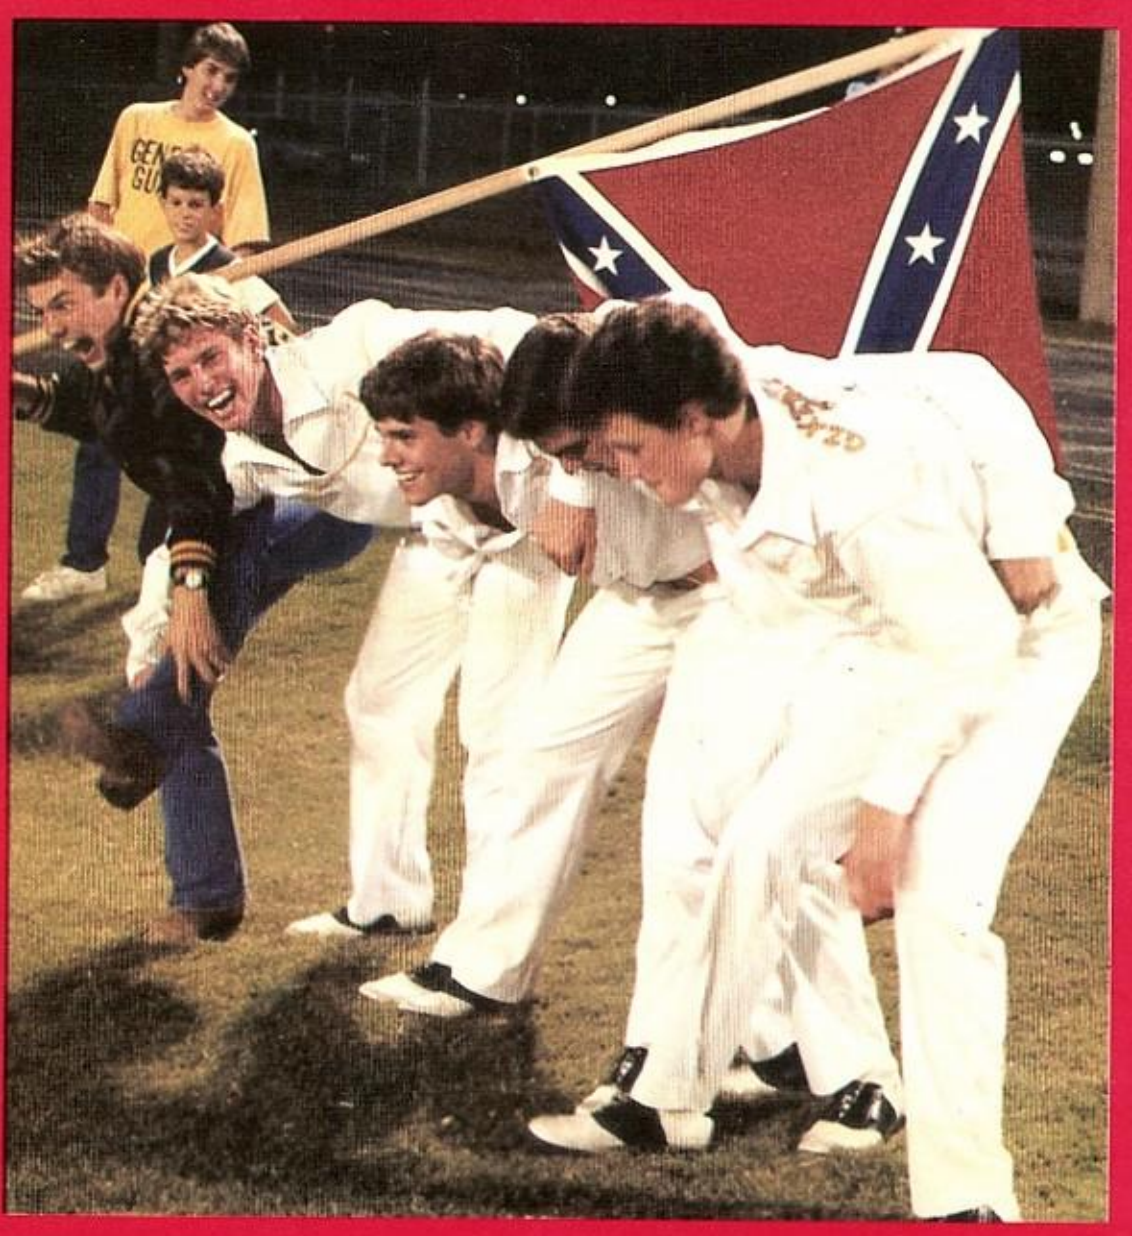
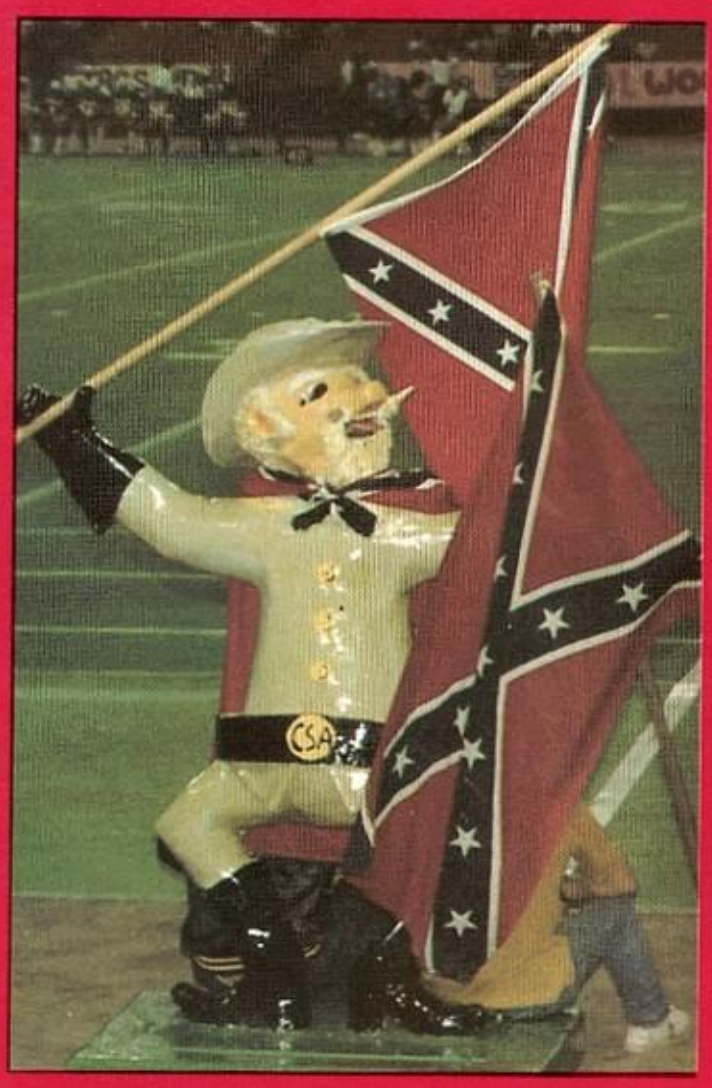
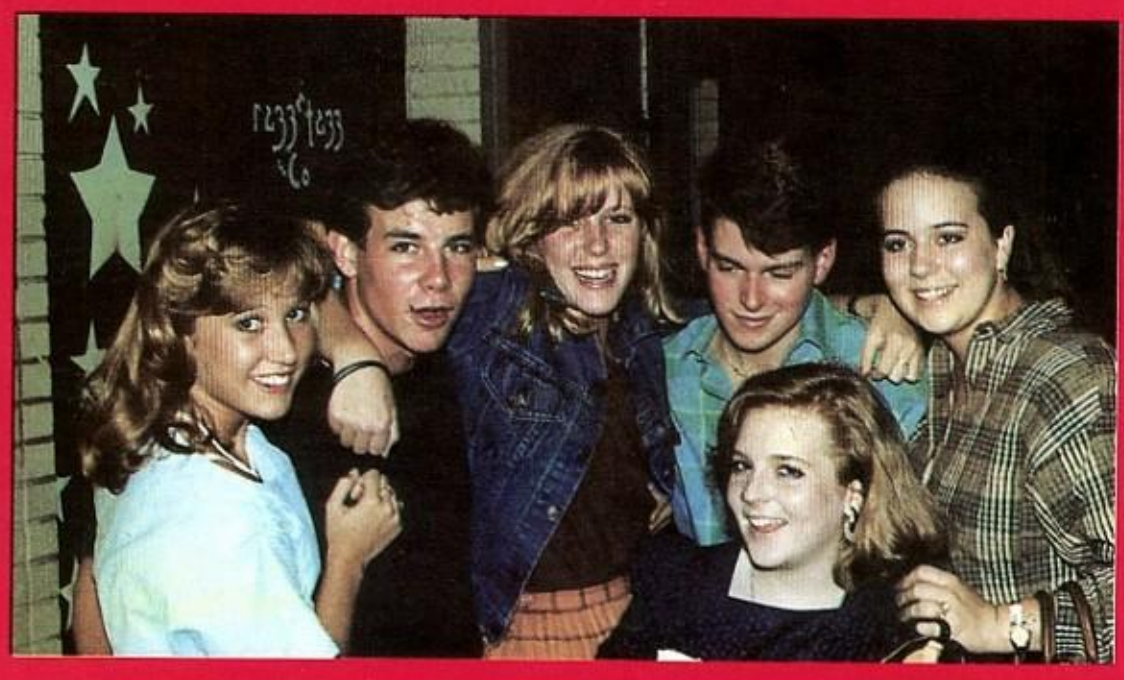
In the opening days, the students, in addition, faced the consequences of the passage of House Bill 72. Under the new law, rules on absences, final exemptions, and assemblies were drastically affected. No more pep rallies and special assemblies could be held during school hours, and Seniors were no longer eligible for final exemptions.



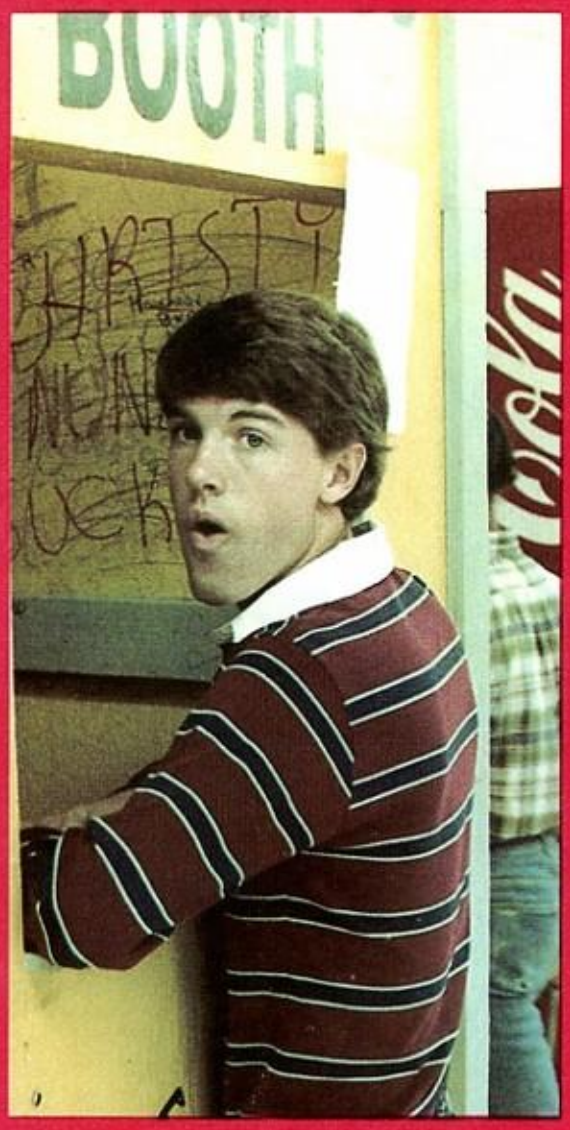


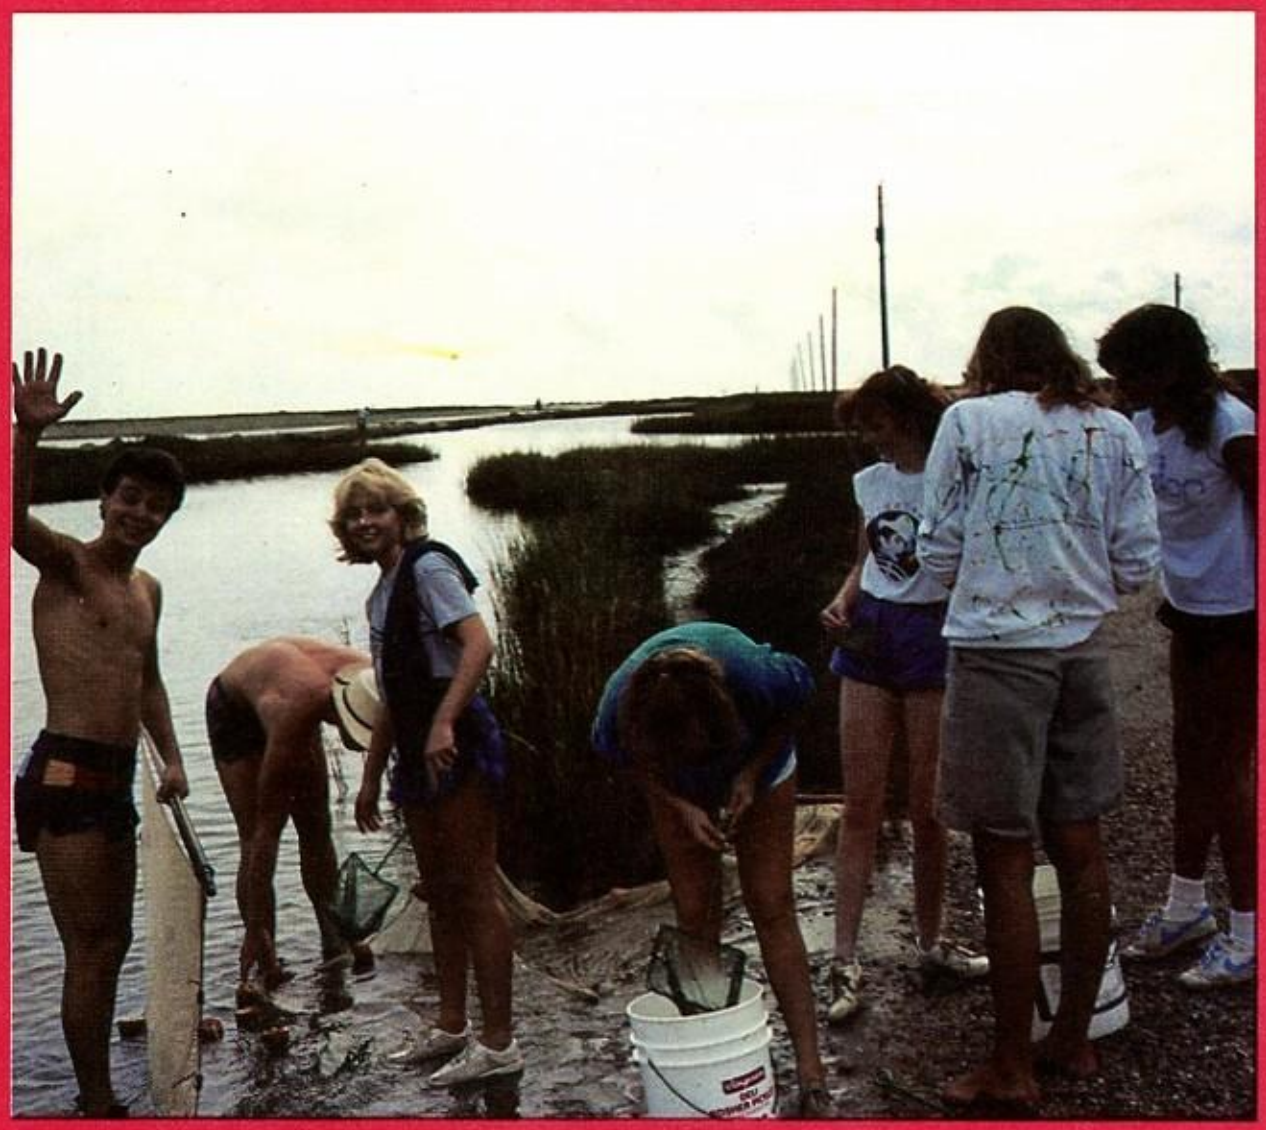


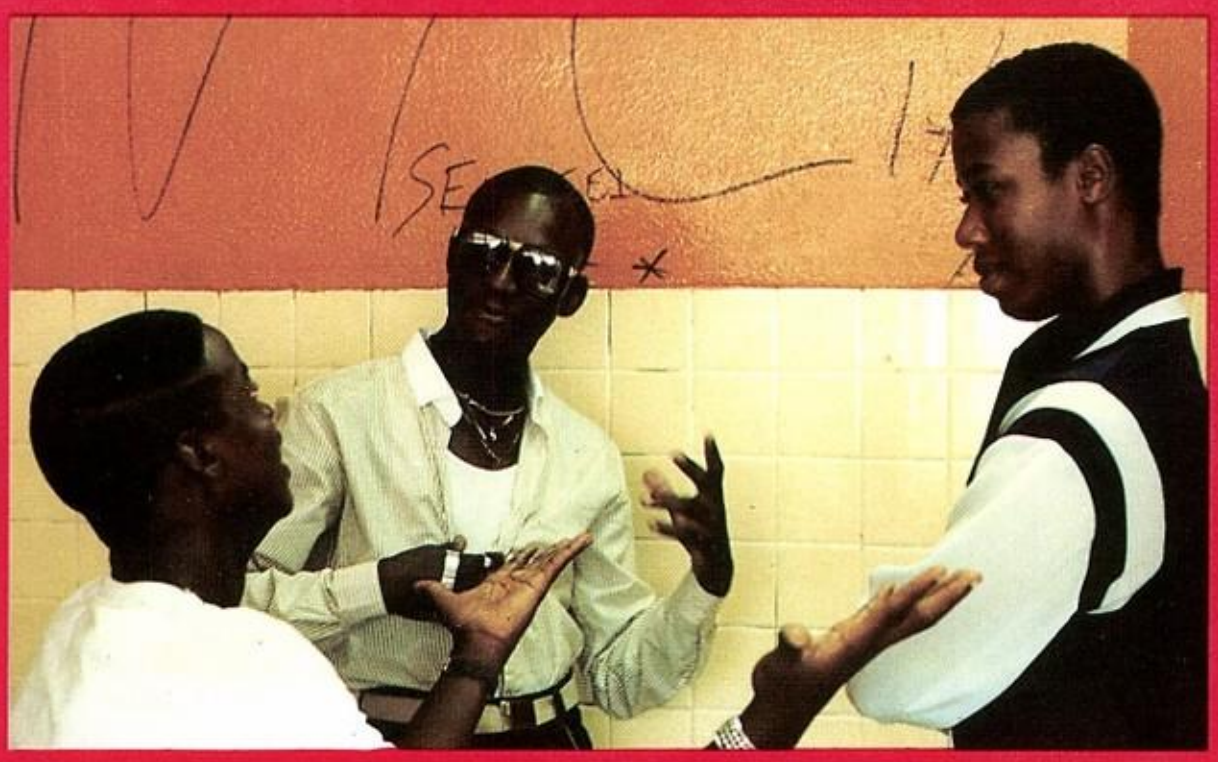


Students became involved in the numerous extra-curricular activities at Lee, yet some of the organization's projects and involvement were reduced due to the new absentee rules. Students were allowed five absences per semester for participation in extra-curricular activities.

Various clubs such as the Lieutenants, Student Council, and Anchor Club gave students the chance to pursue their interests. Key Club sponsored the annual College Night successfully, and Oceanography field trips were made by all the classes. The student body voiced strong disapproval to the new standards, yet they had to overlook these disappointments and make the best of the year.







At the beginning of the football season, fans, coaches, and players were all anticipating a successful year. The first three games were huge disappointments, and injuries to key players kept the team in idle. It was a special year for the Generals getting to play their fourth game in the Astrodome, and students became optimistic once again. Unfortunately, their hopes for success never quite materialized.

The J.V. Girls' Volleyball team was one bright spot in the fall sports program. The talented J.V. team finished first in district and went on to the city playoff. In spite of various setbacks, it was important to keep striving for success.

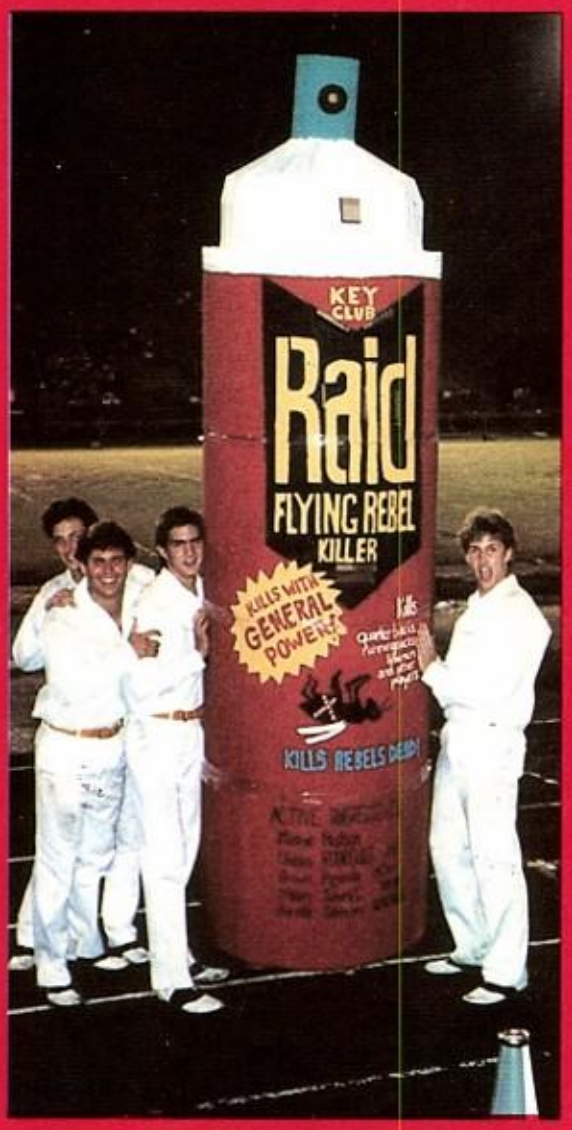
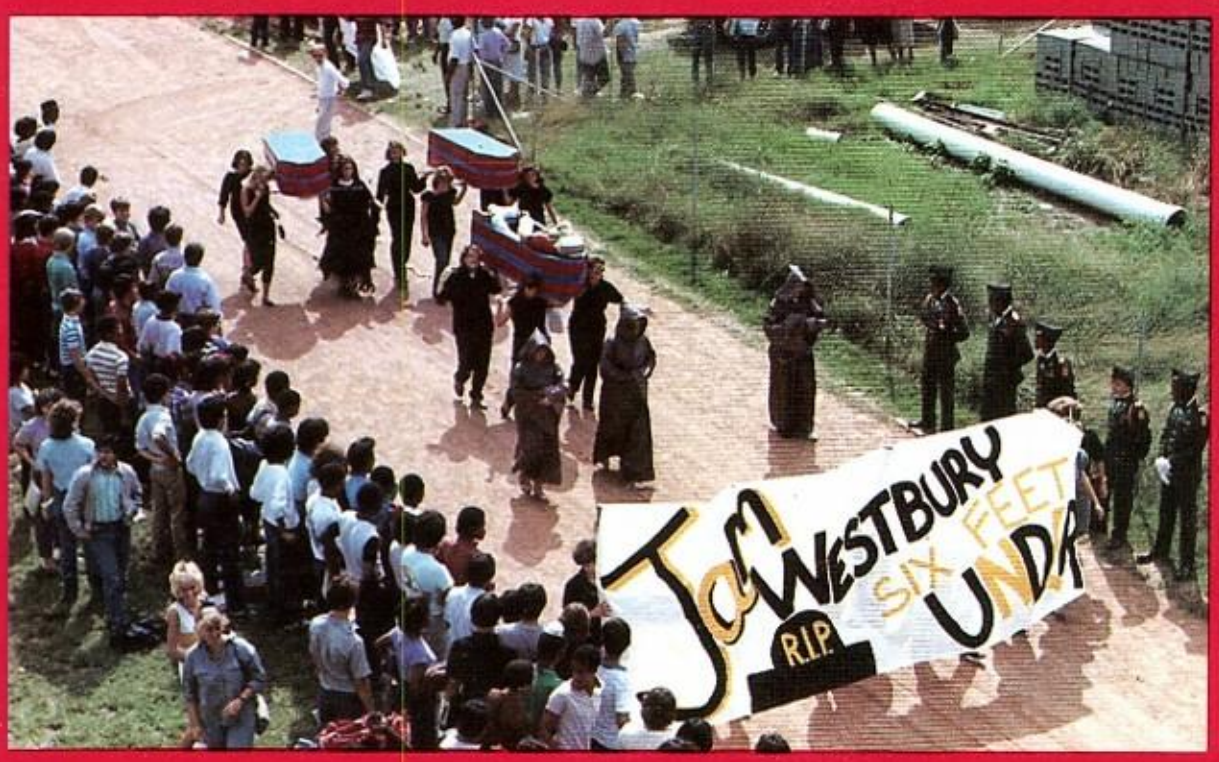
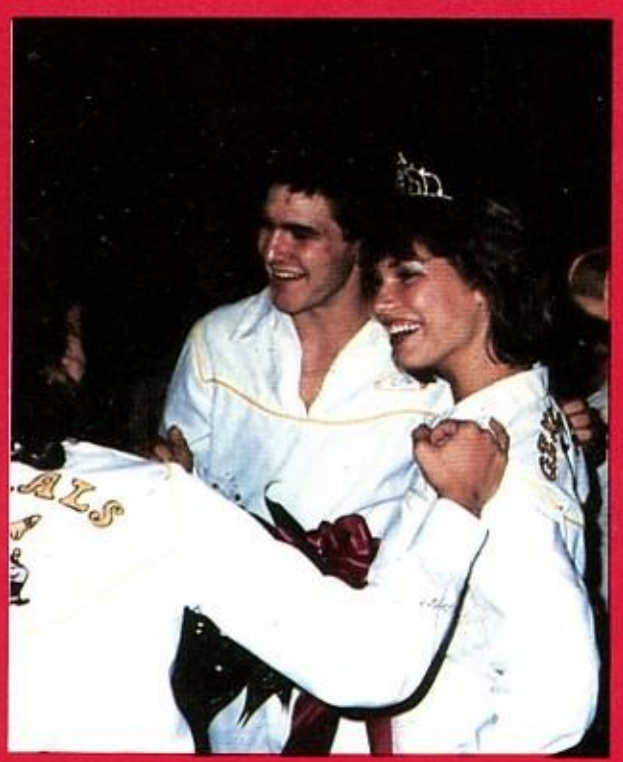
Once again, Lee students came together for the annual Homecoming game. Spirit was low, and Homecoming revived spirit within the school. The parade started the day, and Lee students actively participated in the festivities. The Anchor Club float took two out of the four awards given. The Spirit Committee took the Most Spirited honor and led the General spirit drive. The team played with all their hearts, but ended up losing to the Westbury Rebels. During the half-time ceremonies, Sherri Dial was crowned Homecoming Queen.







Weekends gave students the chance to get away from their academic schedules and enjoy themselves. Formals, theme parties and casual get-togethers were some of the favorite occasions.

Christian organizations including Young Life and Campaigners provided the chance for students to get together with friends and fellowship outside of school. New friendships resulted and the various activities proved worthwhile.

As a Presidential election year, it was an important time for the nation. For the first time in America's history, a woman was running for the Vice Presidency. It was a race between incumbents, Ronald Reagan and George Bush, and the Democrats, Walter Mondale and Geraldine Ferraro. This special election year provided great opportunities for all students, but especially those in government classes where students were required to volunteer to work election headquarters. This was a tremendous learning opportunity.

Students were in the middle of a changing school system and country. Some questions remained unanswered, yet there existed positive opportunities in the near future. In the midst of an unstable situation, students and faculty had to strive and go for the gold.

The beginning of the season had an ominous look to it. The Generals opened the season at Alief Stadium against Elsik with a fiery sunset as a backdrop, a sunset that foreshadowed the season in whole. Like the sun, our hopes for a district championship also disappeared losing our first six games. It was a season of disappointment after disappointment. Our All-City Running Back, John Glidden, was injured and re-injured keeping him out of six games. Our starting Quarterback, Jay Greer, was put out of commission after the third game. With these injuries, freshmen appeared on the varsity squad. Frustrated, Coach Yaccino, did everything he could, only to watch his efforts turn to dust. Finally a bright spot, it took a 150 yard and 4 touchdown game from our star receiver, Lyle Milstead, to mark up a victory for the Generals against Lamar. The season continued. School spirit disappeared, but they kept plugging forward. Their efforts culminated in the final game against Bellaire — A big victory. They had a lot of guts and discipline to keep looking ahead. Most "ran with endurance" and were rewarded with a deeper sense of word "discipline." Post season honors were rewarded to Lyle Milstead, Most Valuable Player; John Glidden, Most Valuable Back; and Marcos Payavla, Most Valuable Lineman. Kenny Barzilla received the Coaches Award. These four also received honors from the district.

PLAYOFFS

LEE	48	Memorial	62

In only his second year as head basketball coach, Mike Fergus compiled the best record in Lee history. It was good enough to finish a strong second in district 18-5A behind Madison.

Beginning the season with an exciting win over a state ranked Memorial, the Lee basketball team was making a name for itself. In the first half of the season, the Generals spattered for a short time. They came up short with two close games against Marion Christian. By the time district settled upon them, they were in full swing.

The team was led by four returning lettermen: Juan Bibbs, Alex Coleman, Mac Richard, and Erik Torgerson. Bibbs had an incredible year grabbing the scoring honors in the district and the city. Cecil Jones and Bill Ruddell also contributed greatly to the General's success. Then came the PLAYOFFS, we were defeated by Memorial.

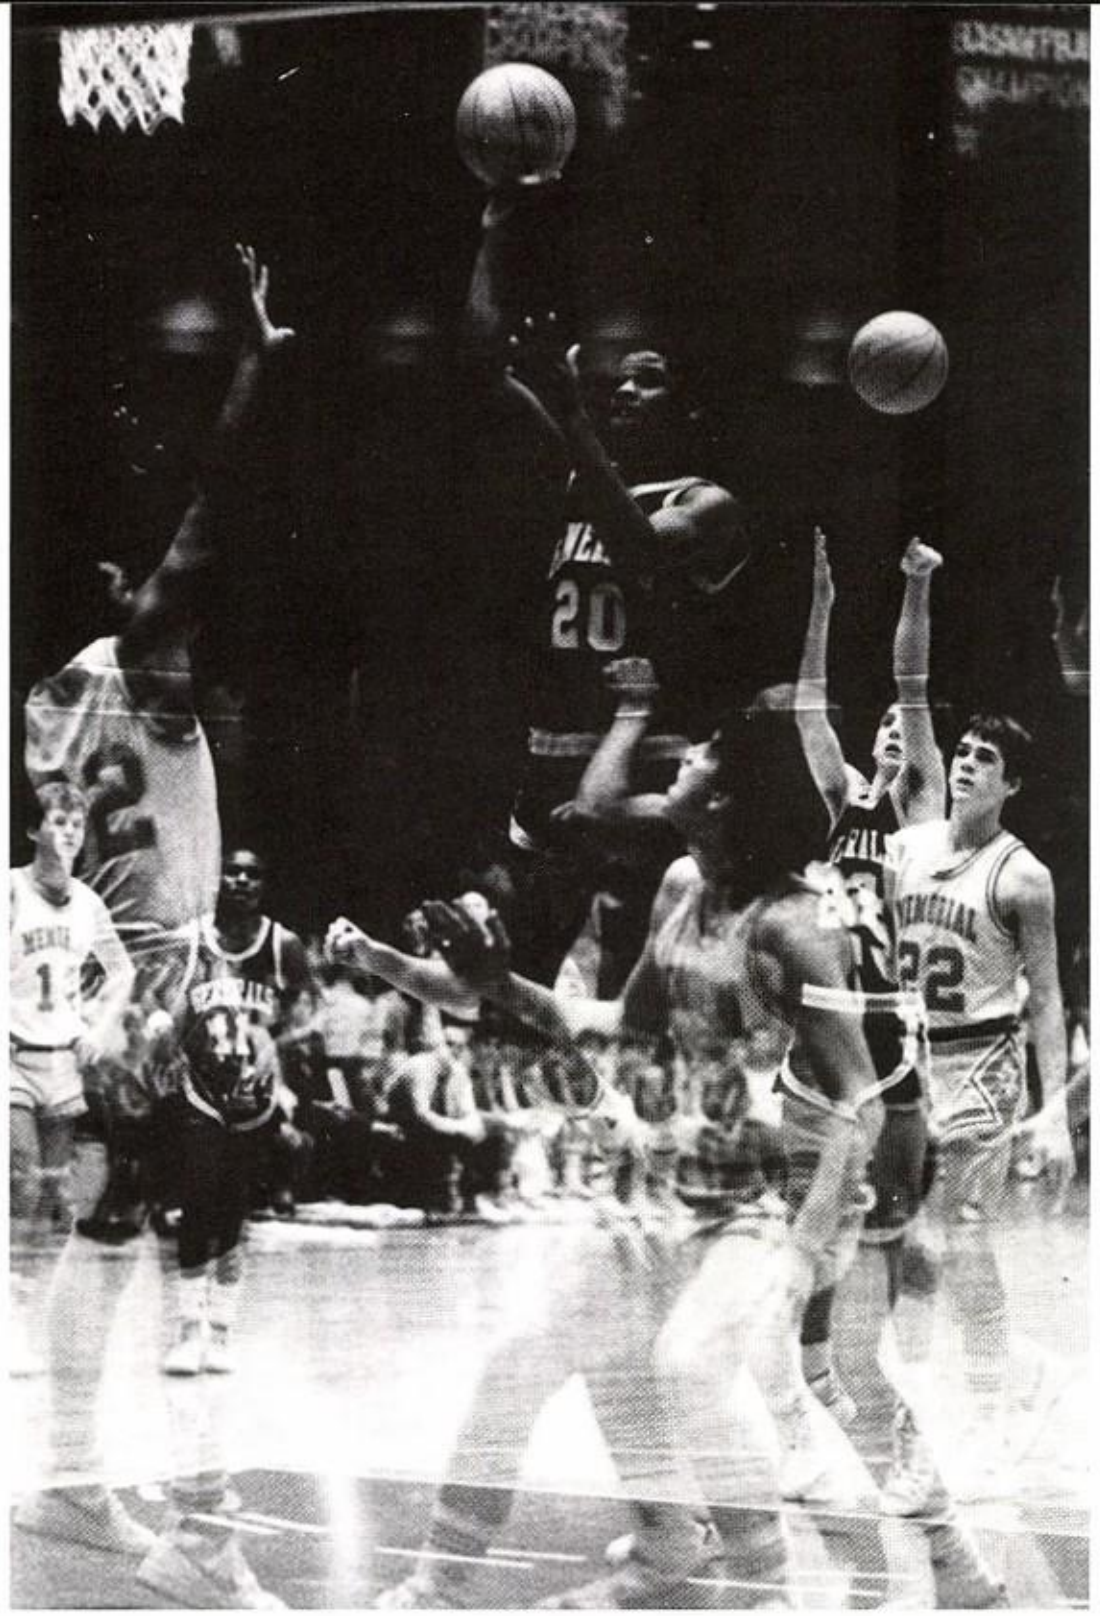
The Playoffs

The 84-85 Lee Generals Basketball Team was the first in the school history to reach the high school basketball playoffs. The game generated much spirit both at school and on the team itself. As the game became a reality, the Generals seemed ready for the challenge the Memorial Mustangs would provide.

Awe stricken, the Generals got off to a very slow start in the game. Their early lapse proved to be too much to overcome. The state runners-up of last year allowed their experience to dictate the game. Led by their senior sensation and star from last year's team, Andy Gilchrist, the Mustangs never let the Generals get close.

When the game was over, the Generals had been defeated 61-48. However, the record season was never forgotten. The ailing program which produced a record of 1-27 two years ago, had been turned around.

Only 54 teams in the state of Texas made the state tournament. Lee players and fans could leave this season proud. So thank you Juan, Erik, Mac, Alex, Jon, Cecil, John, Bill, Ron, and Ellery for a great year, one we will never forget.



Juan Bibbs and Bill Ruddell add four to the General total.

Swimmers Stroke to the Gold

The 1985 season held great things for our swim team. Freshman sensations, Flip Williams and Chris Kovacs, advanced to state in their individual events. Chris placed 10th in the 100 Back and Flip also took 10th in the 500 Free. The 200 Medley Relay also advanced to the state finals receiving 15th place.

Under Coach Reynaud, they won the district championship and set three district records. The team was led by Mark Hutchinson, John Kovacs, Chris Kovacs, and Flip Williams, who set a record in the 200 Medley Relay. Mark also shattered the previous 100 Breast record and Flip Williams put his name in the record books in the 500 Free.

Also in the district meet, Scott Strain placed 3rd in the 100 Fly and David Wright took 6th in the 50 Free.

Junior Bill Ruddell led the team through a tough season.

The Lee Cross Country team was coached by Mrs. Mozelle Wilburn a first year coach at Lee. It was a good year for the team as they finished third in district and won a pair of duel meets. Bill Ruddell, Mathew Alvarez, and Clay Cossey had many good finishes. Others had a good year, such as Tommy Woffard and Michael Alfa. The team should be very successful next year with a strong junior group returning.

Tracksters Turn It On

Coach Les Boyum was in charge of getting the 1985 track team ready for the season ahead of them. The team has excellent depth and it appears they will have a very good year.

The team is loaded with long distance runners such as Mathew Alvarez, Michael Alfa, and Clay Cossey. Larry Johnson and Boris Loggin provide speed for the team. The Generals should do well in the field events with strong man Marcus Payavla and high jumper Steven June.

Tennis Team Bounces Back

Miss Linda Hill was the coach of the 1985 Boy's Tennis Team. In the first few district matches they posted promising wins versus Westbury and Madison.

Outstanding performances were put forth by the Krosby twins, who won District. Backing them up, Darren Inoff and Mark Mitchiner had important wins. The team demonstrated the ability to put forth a strong challenge for the district title.

The General Golf Team, under Coach Hale, entered the season young and unexperienced. The team consisted of Sophomores and Freshmen. Although unexperienced to district play, they hoped to advance to the District Playoffs. Prior to District, they attended the Aldine and Galveston Tournaments. The team's strength came from Jim Blacketer and Kenneth Mondshine. Freshman, Dan Montgomery, also added to the team's strength playing excellent golf.

Head Coach: Mike Watson

The 1985 Varsity Baseball squad entered the season with high hopes. Head coach, Mike Watson, had a senior ballclub including 9 returning lettermen and a motivated '84 JV team who had just come off a district championship under Coach Perry.

Scott Kirkpatrick, Kenny Barzilla, John Glidden, and Jose Cerda led the offensive attack, while outstanding defense was displayed by Mark Abernathy, David Zarr, David Barron, and Bruce Crocombe. Bruce along with Steve McCaslin and Ben Pinto led the General's pitching squad.

As the season progressed, their hopes became reality. The important Bellaire game approached, bringing much excitement to the team and school. The Generals entered the game with a 13-1 record and left with a 14 in the wins column. The team had burst Bellaire's bubble. They had entered the game ranked 9th in the state. Afterwards, the Generals continued to better themselves and their state ranking.

Close But No Cigar

The Varsity Volleyball team, under Coach Carole Hornsby, had a very inconsistent season. They started out strong winning their pre-season matches but lost momentum until the final matches of the season.

With only two returning lettermen, Cynthia Orchard, captain, and Chris May, the team lacked depth. But the girls never lost heart and throughout the season played with undying determination.

J.V. Wins District

The Junior Varsity team, coached by Miss Linda Hill had an outstanding season in '85. Beginning their summer training, some players attended camp at University of Texas and at Rice University.

With an undefeated district record of 12-0, J.V. pushed to city play with a loss against Waltrip. Freshman Connie Adams proved an outstanding player who contributed to this team's accomplishments.

Freshmen Fight for Lee

This year, the freshman volleyball team held a season full of ups and downs. Pre-district play started off with an almost undefeated first round, but concluded in defeat. Highlighting the team's season was the second place victory consolation in the Terry High School Tournament. Obtaining a 9-4 record in district play, the freshmen proved a highly prospective team for next year.

Varsity Tries Hard

Under the expertise of Coach Perry, Varsity girls basketball had a promising season. With a season record of 6-16 overall, the girls showed great potential. In district, Varsity won 3 out of 9 games proving talent. Outstanding players this year were senior, Chris May who led as 1st leading scorer. Connie Adams, a freshman, was the 2nd leading scorer and 1st leading rebounder. Other outstanding players were Linda Siebel Tracey Staples, Vanda Borski and Debbie Knupple.

Coach Perry points out some new set ups.

Better Luck Next Year

Although the Junior Varsity and Freshman Basketball teams had an over abundance of losses, Coach Boyum and Coach Wilburn pulled the girls through. The Junior Varsity's record was 1 and 17, winning against St. Pious. The leading scorer was Angie Leves. The freshman team's record was 0-12 and their team's leading scorer was Peggy Zahatros. The girls show much promise for the team next year.

Golfers Have Gusto

Coached by Carol Hornsby, the Girls Golf Team once again captured the District Championship. Senior Cindy Orchard led the team to their victory, claiming second place medalist. While the whole team performed well, outstanding scores were also turned in by freshman, Dana Dull, and Sophomore Amy Miracle. The Team was geared for regionals that were played in April.

Cross Country Gets Lost

The 1984-85 Lee Girls Cross Country Track Team had a fairly good year. Coach Wilburn helped Ashley Cook and Becky Van Meter qualify for city in the two mile event. Looking forward to a more prosperous year, the girls proved hard working and determined.

GIRLS TENNIS TEAM — Row 1: Jill Laughlin, Melissa Dowling, Lisa Cobb, Meritt Burnell. Row 2: Brooke Wright, Lou Thompson, Katharin Bryan, Joan Laughlin, Hilary Hancock.

Tennis Team Turns Heads

This year the 1984-85 Girls Tennis Team was led by Mrs. Hill. Katherine Bryan and Melissa Dowling came in second in Doubles during district playoffs. Also, coming in fourth in district doubles was Lou Thompson and Joan Laughlin. In singles Lisa Cobb came in fourth. All of these outstanding players including Katherine Bryan, the first 4-year letterman in tennis, had a good year.

Cathy Pereira and Kirstin Torgerson can't wait to compete in Lee's new pool.

Swimmers Take Their Mark

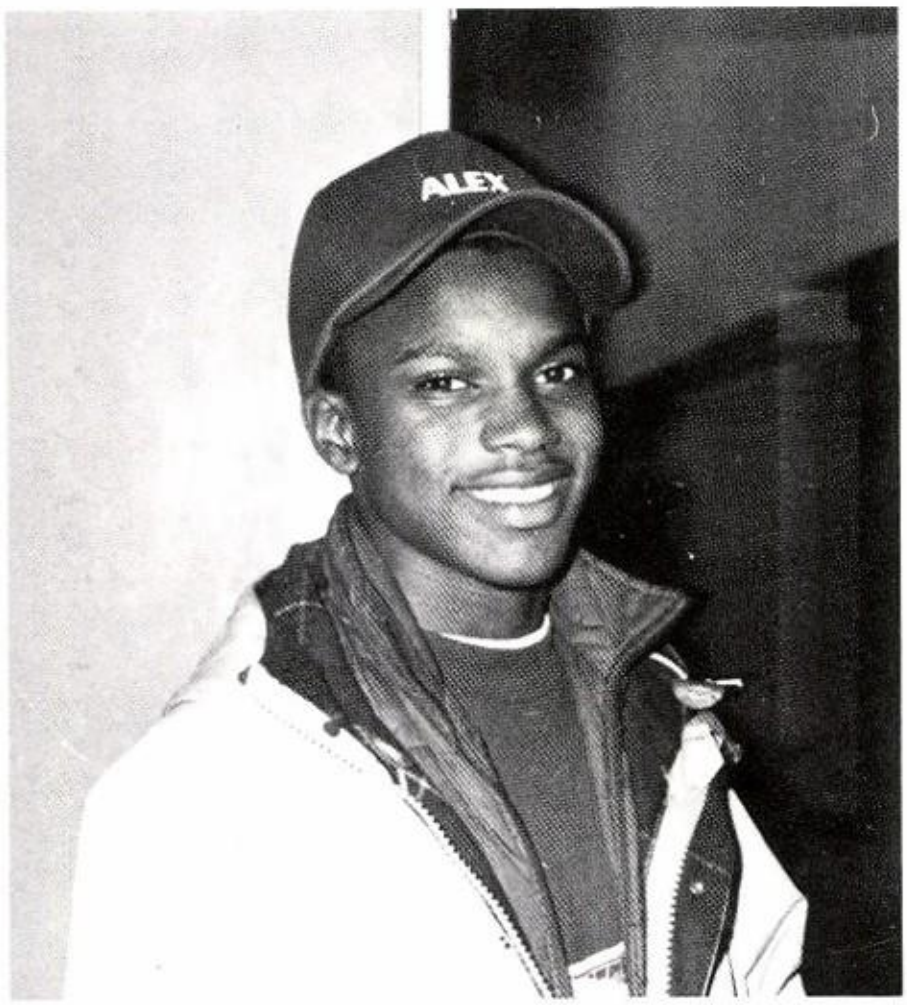
Swimming to their best season in years, the Girls Swim Team won second in district. After taking second place in regionals in both their events Kirstin Torgerson and Cathy Pereira advanced to state. Torgerson claimed both a 6th in the 100 back stroke and 10th in the 50 free style. Pereira finished 6th in the 200 IM. The girls also managed to put together a strong medley relay which finished fourth in regionals and just missed qualifying for state. All the girls will be eligible to compete again next year.

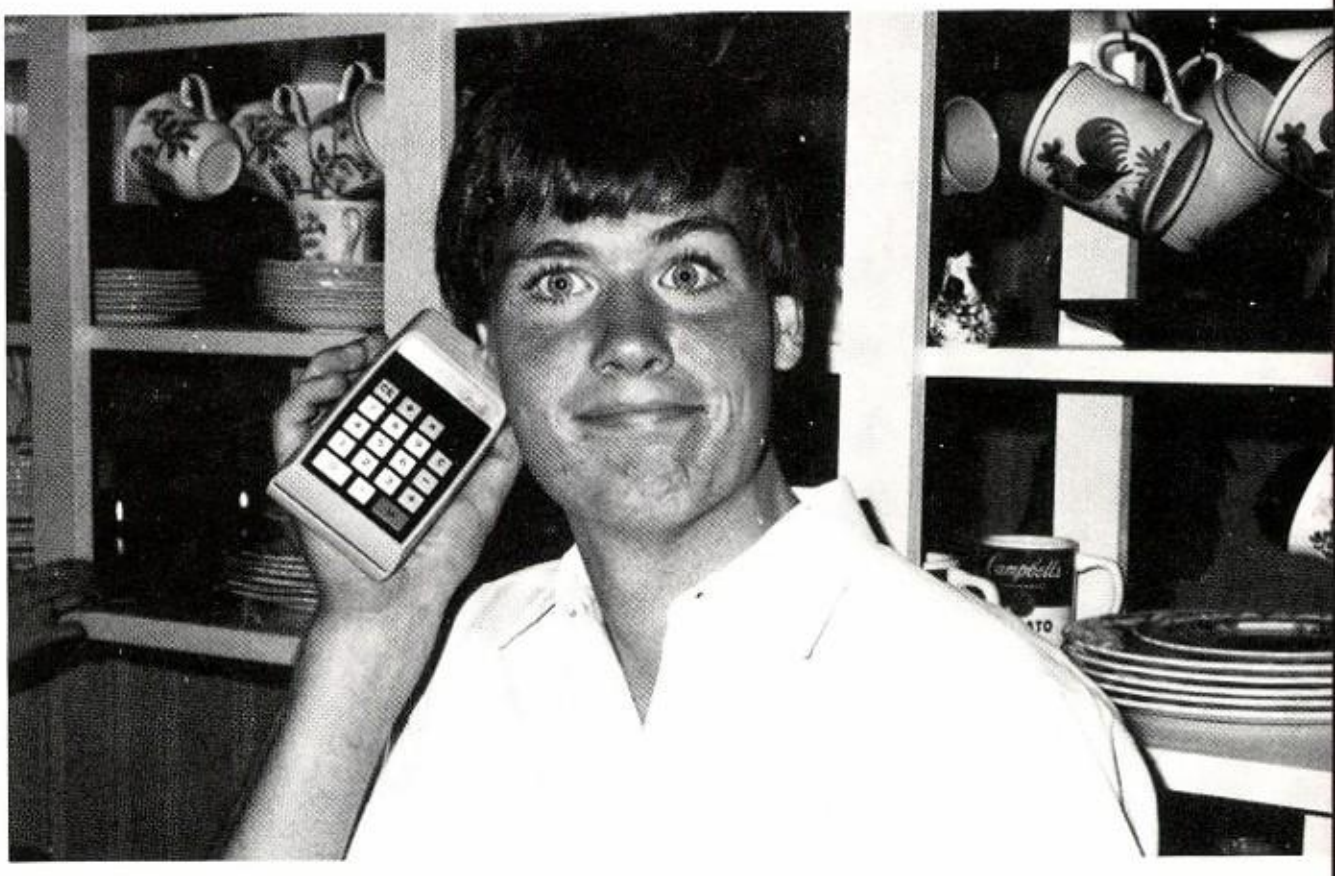
Young Leaders Editor: John Shepherd

Young Leaders

Leadership is the special ability to set a quality example for others to follow. A group of Lee's students were recognized as Young Leaders and honored in various scholastic and leadership roles. These dedicated individuals strove to fulfill their responsibilities and reach their personal goals.

SOLID GOLD





Lee Provides Leadership

Leaders of various organizations at Lee guided the student body through a year of true spirit and success. Their complete devotion and patience led to meeting sought after goals. The enthusiasm and dedication of these young individuals made them excellent role models for all students.

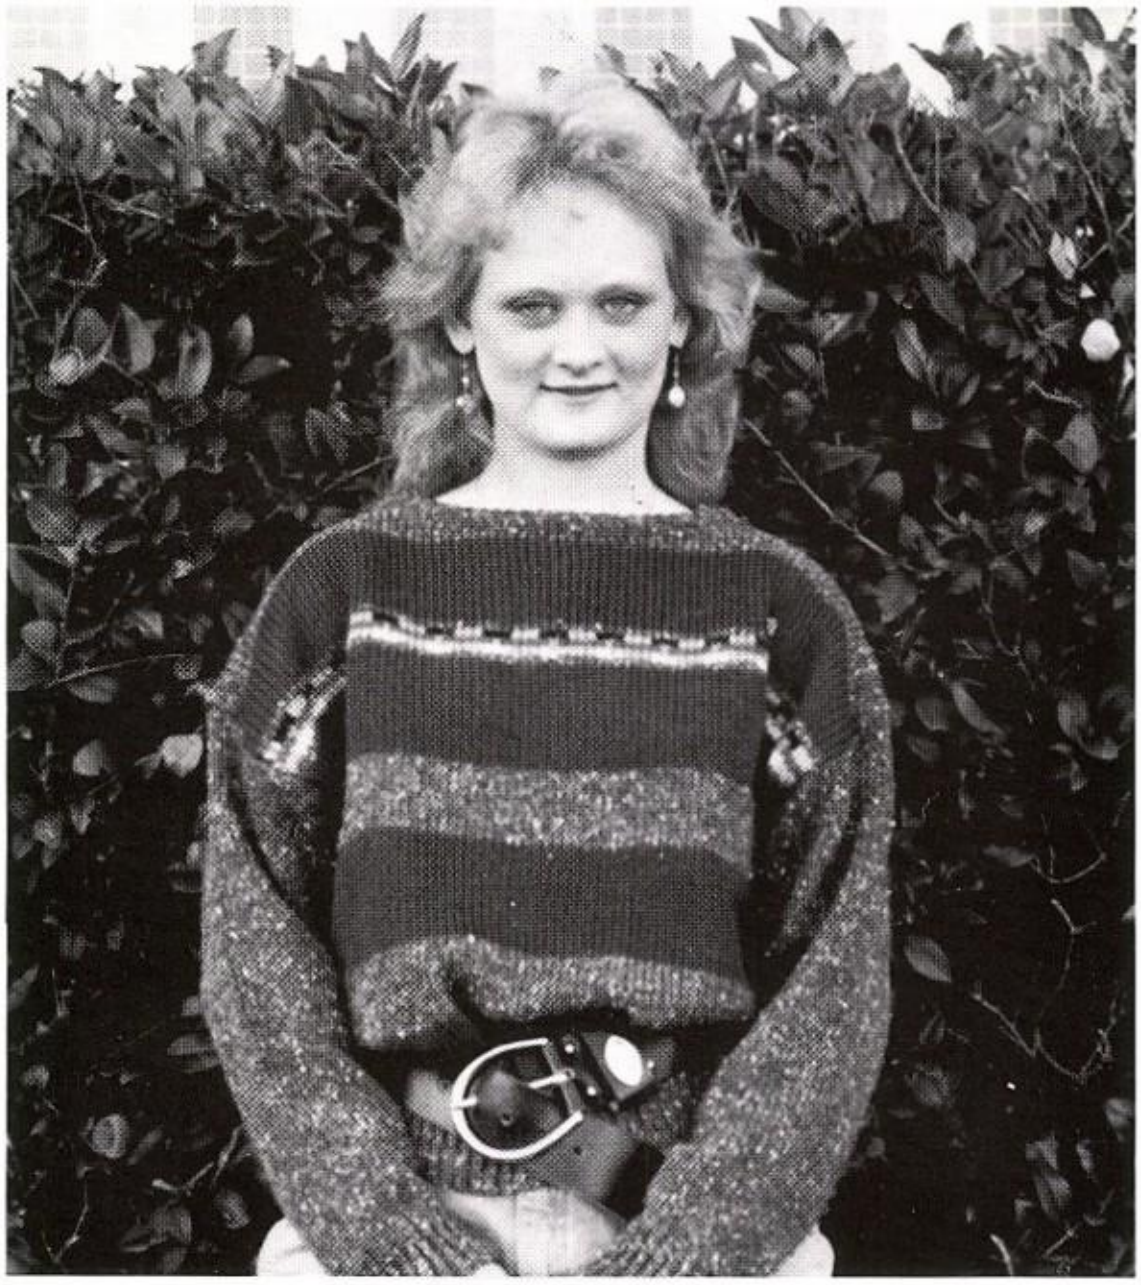
Scholars Win National Distinction



Early in the year, fifteen seniors received recognition as outstanding performers in the National Merit Scholarship Program, as a result of exceptionally high scores on the National Merit Scholarship Qualifying Test, administered with the PSAT in the Junior year.

One National Merit Semi-Finalist was named and fourteen students received Letters of Commendation. These students, displaying a superior level of scholastic ability, represent the quality of the English and math departments.

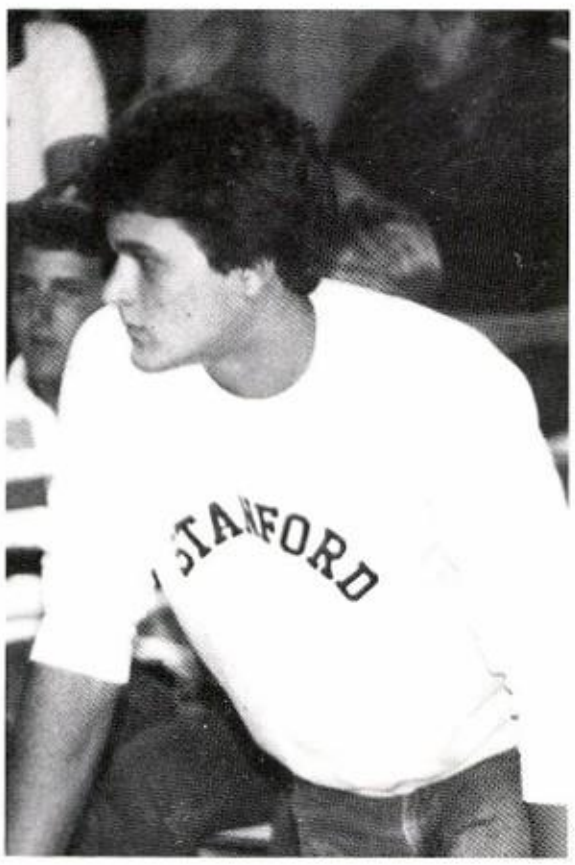
ACTIVITIES EDITOR: Katharine Bryan

ACTIVITIES

Things to do, places to go, people to meet. Sports, parties, and school clubs provided a spectrum of activities for students at Lee. Within the school building, students were active, and this participation continued in activities outside of school. Through these times of involvement, memorable moments were created by the students.

GOLDEN MOMENTS



Here We Go Again

Once again the doors of Robert E. Lee opened to welcome students back. On August 20, summer fun came to an abrupt halt, and parties were restricted to the weekends.

Freshmen entered confused, but determined to make their mark. Sophomores were glad to no longer be "fish," and the Juniors just carried on. Seniors began their final year preparing for the future.

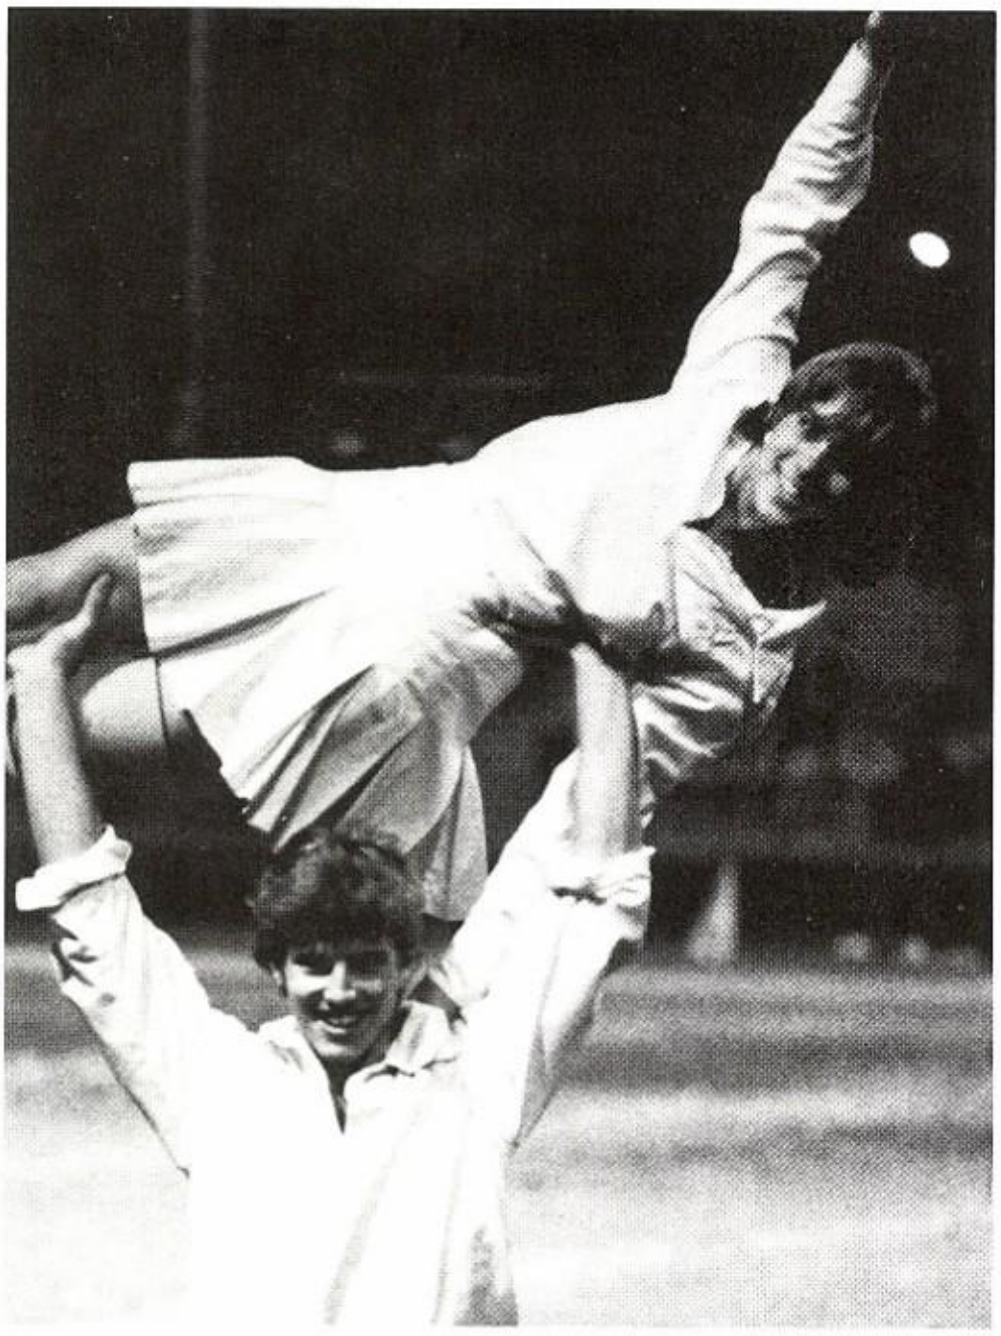
Cheerleaders Let Their Spirit Soar



The 1984-85 Cheerleaders, Sherri Dial, Lynette Neugebauer, Gracia Wynne, Kim Zook, Louis Hamilton, Scott Kirkpatrick, John Sheperd, and Brad Wilson boosted Lee's spirit despite the new rules. They held pep rallies before school, and they performed at football, volleyball, and basketball games. Under the direction of Mrs. Regina Satlof Block, the Cheerleaders succeeded in firing up the student body.

Generals Come Home

Lee's Homecoming took place on October 12, but the preparations began several weeks before. Awards were given to the Most Beautiful, Most Original, and Best All Around float. After the parade there was a giant pep rally on the football field.

Later that night, Sherri Dial was crowned Homecoming Queen with Heather Mackie and Gracia Wynne as finalists. Despite the General's loss to Westbury, the evening was exciting for both Lee and returning students.

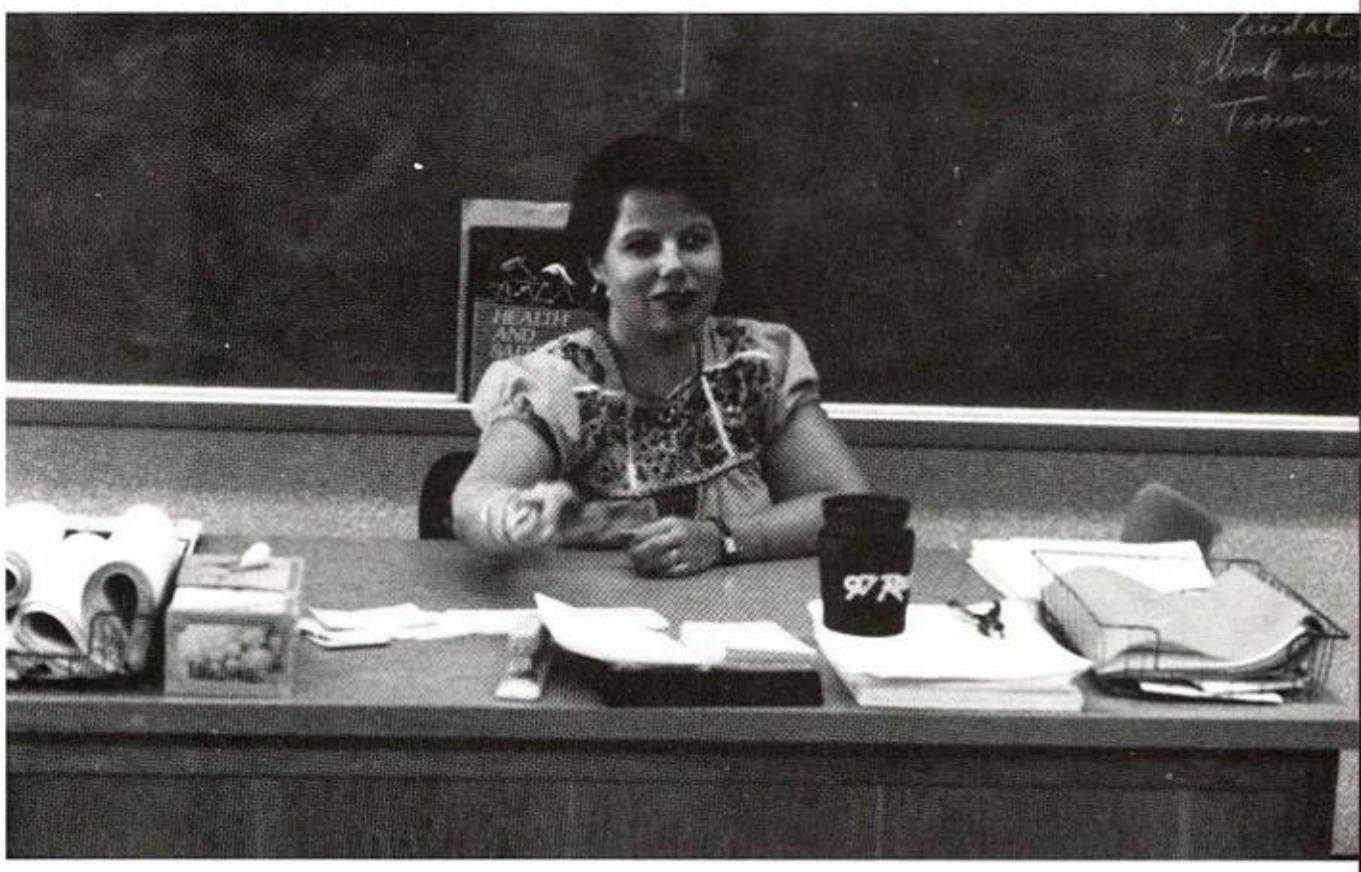
FACULTY EDITOR: Steven Hartwig

FACULTY

Teachers, under constant pressure from students, administrators, and the media, rose above and provided Lee students with the tools they needed to succeed. This special group of people encouraged students to excel academically and friendships often resulted. The faculty left lasting marks on students which they would carry into the future.

GOLDEN OLDIES



Principals Portray Leadership

Lee High School was headed by Mr. Lawrence Bergen. His guidance and knowledge of school foundations and functions helped pave the way for the 1984-1985 school year. In addition to school spirit, Mr. Bergen tightened school security to prevent unwanted visitors on the school campus.

Mr. Bergen also took an interest in the construction of a pool and new parking facilities for the faculty and students.

HISD's new policies on extracurricular activities were strictly enforced by Mr. Bergen and his staff. Special emphasis was placed on the basic solids so the students would be better prepared for the future.

Mr. Bergen was confronted with many difficult tasks, but with his sound decision making tactics and his inward drive to make this school flourish, made this year one of Lee's best.

The assistant principals, Mrs. Mary Carolyn Smith, Mr. Fred Skains, and Mr. Charles Henderson assisted Mr. Bergen and the staff in various ways.

Mrs. Smith was in charge of the issuing and taking up of textbooks along with the disciplining of all Seniors.

Mr. Fred Skains was in charge of Juniors' discipline; furthermore, he assisted in on campus construction and inventory.

Mr. Charles Henderson was in charge of Freshman and Sophomore discipline. He also assisted in bus transportation and cafeteria duties.

English Bridges Communication Gap

The English department, headed by Mrs. Sharon Nickel, emphasized the importance of diligent preparation for the S.A.T., as well as the fall and the spring Proficiency Tests. Lee offers both major works and CVAE courses in English for further study.

To enrich the student's basic English skills the courses of Basic Latin, Reading Development, and Creative Writing are offered as electives.

The English department takes pride in the success of its literary arts magazine, Echoes. Under the direction of Mr. Vincent D'Amico, outstanding pieces of literature were written by Lee's students.

Mathematicians Do Numbers

Lee's Math Department, led by Mrs. Thera Yoes, explores such courses as Algebra, Geometry, and Trigonometry. Also, Computer Math, Calculus, and Elementary Analysis are available to those students interested in the math field.

The International Baccalaureate (IB) Program has expanded the diverse levels of math. Lee's students are proud to participate in Mu Alpha Theta, an honors math club, sponsored by Mrs. Yoes. Number Sense is also a part of the MAO, directed by Mrs. Stephanie Forbes. These students participated in several tournaments throughout the year.

Scientists Experiment

The Science department, directed by Miss A. J. Schweitzer, gave students a deeper insight into the wonders of life and the forces that govern our world. This year marked the introduction of the Pre-International Baccalaureate Program (IB) in Biology and Physical Science that will be expanded to Biology II, Chemistry and Physics next year. Basic and advanced courses in Biology, Oceanography, Physical Science, Chemistry and Physics enriched the students' understanding of nature along with the Science Club, Critters and Creatures, Chemistry Honors Society, and (J.E.T.S.).

History Recounts the Past

The Social Studies Department includes study in the areas of Geography, Psychology, American and World History, Government, and Economics. At Lee we are fortunate to have a pre-IB program in the area of World History which will be expanded next year to include American History, Government, and Economics. There are many special enrichment programs available to Social Studies students. Among the most popular are the American History Day at Rice University in November, Close-Up trip to Washington D.C. in February, and a Mock trial in celebration of Law Day in May. One of our teachers, Ms. Renee Neuwald, sponsors the Lee Y Law Club which encourages participation in the Democratic process.

Linguists Excel in Languages

Why Foreign Languages? Because by learning another language one expands his cultural possibilities. Foreign Language is the best way to promote communication, peace, and understanding among people of different cultures, races, and religions.

Each of the languages sponsors a club as well as an Honor Society. The department, headed by Mrs. Inés Anido, offers a great variety of courses designed to meet each student's needs.

Fine Arts Innovate Students

The Art Department, under the leadership of Mr. Henri Gadbois, stressed the importance of many facets of the artistic world. Students were offered courses in drawing, painting, sculpture, and photography.

The Language Arts Department, directed by Mr. Rod Nichols, promoted the perfection of skills in writing and speaking. Courses in debate, speech, and journalism are among the curriculum. Positions on the yearbook and newspaper staffs are available to those who wish to continue a further study in journalism.

Other Fine Art programs include: the Marching Generals, band, the orchestra, the Lee Lieutenants, and Razz-M-Tazz, sponsored by Ms. Linda Shuler.

Coaches Get It in Gear

The Physical Education Department strived for excellence in the new era of physical fitness. Many sports were offered ranging from swimming, track and volleyball to football and basketball.

Lee's R.O.T.C. Department headed by Colonel Arthur Butcher along with Sergeant Cockroft taught military discipline and tactics for those interested in military careers.

The Lee Lieutenants headed by Mrs. Anne Hair provided enjoyment during halftime at the football games and performed at many other school associated functions.

CLUBS

Various clubs existing at Lee strongly attracted many students seeking to pursue their talents and interests. Organizations provided the chance for extra-curricular involvement and the opportunity to work with others with similar interests. Participation in these clubs gave students experience in leadership and positions of responsibility.

Rings of Gold

Saber Stands Out

Mrs. Wiz's motto, "If you don't know what you're doing, then stop what you're doing," was also the 1985 SABER staffers motto as they plunged into another year of headaches and happiness. The ever faithful Paige Turner led the way for junior and senior staffers alike. The first deadline was, to a say the least, hectic. Cries of, "How do you crop, enlarge, and reduce, and what are the margins again?" could be heard for miles as the confused staffers learned the technique of layout perfection. Jay tried his best to avoid fellow staffers afraid they might burden him with another receipt. When deadlines came around, Erik, of course, was always ready and eager to "take his share of the load." After the third deadline, staffers took a well deserved break, having completed another edition of Lee's FINEST publication.

Council Leads the Way

Working hard to serve the students and faculty, the Student Council, sponsored by Mr. Joe Hayes, contributed to the improvement of the school. Each member had to maintain at least a 2.6 grade average and a G in conduct.

This year the Council sponsored school-wide clean-ups and elections. They also had monthly teacher appreciations and again organized the Homecoming Parade.

Some of its fund-raising projects included several salad bar luncheons for teachers, selling donuts before school, and of course the annual Valentine's Day Fox Hunt.

Other service projects included a trip to the Methodist Hospital and a can food drive. Also an Interclub Council, comprised of all club presidents at Lee, was started to talk about school problems and how to solve them.

Key Clubbers Do It as a Service

The Key Club is one of the most active clubs at Lee. Sponsored by Mr. Gadbois, the Key Club participates in activities both at school and away. It is in charge of such things as the alumni garden, College Night, arranging the trophy case, and a part in Career Day. Activities away from school include the ever-popular Treemont, Mission of Yaweh, Pancake Day, and they have started a new program of working with kids at Grace Church.

In April the club went on their annual Convention trip. They stayed in downtown Ft. Worth. This is where all the different Key Clubs from Texas and Oklahoma are in a competition to see how each club compares with the others. Of course, the Robert E. Lee Key Club was one of top ranked in the two states.

Countee's Activists

Scuba Club

The Scuba Club planned two diving trips this Spring. Sponsored by Mrs. Countee, the group went to the Flower Gardens in Galveston and to Lake Travis near Austin. Those divers that were not certified were given temporary certification through the Ocean Corporation. Scuba Clubs goal was to help students become certified while promoting safety on all types of diving.

Chess Club

Chess Club, also sponsored by Mrs. Countee, competed in three Houston Chess Association tournaments this year. They accumulated a total of 6 trophies. Two outstanding players Todd Rice and Basim Zakhem achieved first place in tournaments. Officers are Todd Rice, president; Basim Zakhem, vice-president; Mark Adams, treasurer; and Jemmy Yang, secretary.

Through hard work and dedication, Anchor Clubbers completed another successful year. In order to be eligible for membership, one must have a 3.6 GPA and an "E" in conduct. Under the fine leadership of Ms. Sandra Malicote, Anchors actively participated in both school and community service projects. Orientation, Teacher Appreciation, and Career Day were the club's primary school functions. This year, members traveled to Hermann Hospital and held a Halloween Party for critically burned children. The Garcia House Thanksgiving dinner, Seaman Center Christmas boxes, and Special Olympics were other very rewarding projects which members took part in. Fund raising consisted of greenery and spook sucker sales. Anchors rounded off their year with the joint Key Club-Anchor Club Progressive Dinner, and finally in May, a banquet was held at which new officers were announced and installed.

NHS

Among high school students at Lee, a select few earned the right to become members of the National Honor Society. Mrs. Stephanie Forbes, sponsor of the Lee chapter of the NHS, led her scholastically inclined students to attain the highest honors at Lee. The National Honor Society served the school by offering tutorial help to students. Dues funded the induction ceremony in the spring for new members.

Lee's advanced mixed choir displayed continual support of their school and community through many successful performances. Miss Eleanor Grant directed the group at open house and graduation.

Members of the Southernaires sang at the Houston Country Club, Transco Towers, and Petroleum Club during the holiday season. They also performed a spectacular concert at Second Baptist Church. As spring approached, the choir participated in the annual Dogwood Festival in Woodville, Texas. Outstanding choir members competed in the UIL Solo and Ensemble in late February as well as other UIL contests.

To help fund their many activities, Southernaires sold cheese sausage, and they also held a paper drive.

Dixiliers Sing Hallelujah

The girls singing group, Dixiliers, headed by Ms. Eleanor Grant, represented Lee with their singing ability and with musical talent. This year, they performed in many functions such as the Pop Concert in the fall, and the U.I.L. Solo and Ensemble Contest. Funds were raised by selling cheeses and sausages. These profits enabled them to go on a spring field trip and buy new musical equipment which would be useful to the club. Practicing every morning at school, the girls learned new songs not only for competition but also for the service project to entertain the community.

Omega Omega

If you have ever forgotten to date an attendance card, miscounted October absences, received a yellow dot, or lost your certificates for the career ladder, you qualify for membership in the "Double O's". This unique organization was founded on a "self-help" group for imperfect pedagogues.

Group therapy sessions are held weekly, where members console one another and then adjourn to cheer the Generals to victory, even though they flounder in the face of defeat.

The coveted "callipygnous" award is presented at the Spring banquet.

Conservatives Splurge

The Young Conservatives of Texas was a semi-political club at Lee High School. The club was controlled by the leadership of Mrs. Bronwyn Rack and Mrs. Cindy O'Brien. The purpose of the Young Conservatives was to become more familiar with the government's activities and increase their political awareness. With the past year being an election year, it gave the club an excellent chance to study the government body in depth.

Southern Comfort Abounds

The Hospitality Club had another successful year as they served the school and community in many ways. Members prepared and served refreshments at College Night and Open House. Under the leadership of Miss Beth Bogan, Hospitality Club visited Blalock Nursing Home each Monday after school and played bingo with elderly. Other service projects they participated in were entertaining at the Chimney Rock Home for Children and Special Olympics. In the spring members helped with graduation.

Traveler, Lee's school newspaper, provided students with knowledge of activities occurring within the school as well as other activities of current interest throughout the school year. Published bi-weekly, the Traveler included feature articles, editorials, news, sports, club information, student opinions, and various other topics of current interest.

Members of the Traveler Staff are required to have taken a year of journalism and been in the upper third of their class in general scholastic standing. Under the supervision of Mrs. Regina Satloff, Block, staffers were awarded first place by the Columbia Scholastic Press Association for their achievements. In May, Traveler held a spring banquet at which new staff positions were announced.

CSU Meets the Challenge

Lee's Christian Student Union met each Tuesday morning at 7:30 in the auditorium. Throughout the year, CSU covered such issues as relationships, dating, keeping a positive attitude, handling peer pressure, prayer, and many other topics.

Lisa Milne, Second Baptist Youth Director, Jeoff Benwood, Artist in Residence at Second Baptist Church, and Rev. Dale Depue of Grace Presbyterian Church were just a few of the guest speakers and entertainers students enjoyed hearing. CSU also held Bible studies every other Thursday night for interested members.

S-P-I-R-I-T, Let's Hear It!

The Spirit Committee, designed to promote school spirit, had a successful year in getting the school involved with the athletics program. Under the leadership of Ms. Doris Countee, the club met on every Tuesday after school.

The dedicated members painted signs, baked cookies and cakes, made lunches, and wrapped houses and rooms for the athletes in an effort to promote spirit. At pep rallies held in the morning, the club performed skits, chose a coach-of-the-week, and fired the teams up for the upcoming game.

Y-Law Knows the Rules

The Lee Y-Law Club, sponsored by Ms. Renee Neuwald, is a newly formed youth in government organization. The club was active in many participatory democracy programs such as the youth in government program of the YMCA. Members met Tuesdays after school where they staged mock trials, wrote law, and heard from invited guest speakers. In the spring, members attended a district convention and then proceeded on to the state Y-Law convention in Austin where students staged and competed in their own mock trials.

Brigade A Gets Excited

The Lee's Lieutenants, under the sponsorship of Mrs. Anne Hair, encouraged spirit among the students and provided half time entertainment at football games. Last May the Lieutenants performed at the World's Fair in New Orleans. After their stay in New Orleans, the Lieutenant officers flew to Dallas where they attended an officer camp at SMU. In mid-July, the Lieutenants attended corps camp at the University of Houston where they received 72 first place ribbons, 19 second place ribbons, and the spirit pom pon. Besides performing at half time during football season, the Lieutenants attended competitions and marched in the Thanksgiving Day Parade. To finance their activities, they sold candy, Christmas cards and paper, and cookies. The Lieutenants published the Robert E. Lee Directory as a special project and service to the school.

According to Jenny Newcomb, Tina Valenciano, Gavra Jauer, Chiann Fan, and Jill Greenwalt, "Those who dance together, travel together."

Uncle Bob's Guards Promote Spirit

The General Guard's primary responsibility is the safe transport and storage of Uncle Bob to and from all the General Varsity games with football games being far most. Along with this, they also help build school spirit. This includes pep rallies and hall marches. Supervising the efforts of this organization is the acknowledged Dr. Burton Parks, whose leadership is greatly appreciated. Other duties of the General Guard are the ordering of jackets, and the General Guard/ROTC football games.

ROTC Aims High

The past year was a very successful year for the Lee ROTC. They participated in many area competitions. Although they lost a rifle team match to Austin, it was only the first loss in two years. ROTC also challenged FFA to a football game. ROTC lost by only two points. This past year the ROTC sponsored the annual Turkey Shoot which was very successful.

Ambassadors Get Down to Business

The Ambassadors is a newly formed club founded on the principles of enhancing education through tutorial programs. Maintaining at least a "C" GPA and a "G" in conduct, members met the first and third Wednesday of each month. Under the direction of Mrs. Rhonda Hill, the Ambassadors held study workshops before school. Members also contributed to a Thanksgiving basket for the elderly, and at Christmas time, members donated canned goods to the Salvation Army. In the spring, members sponsored an Easter Egg Hunt at Piney Point Elementary. Near the end of the year, the Ambassadors held a talent show and gave all proceeds to the Sickle Cell Foundation.

Razz M' Tazz and Co. is a troupe of students which creates its own show through improvisation. Built for the young at heart, "Razz" creates song, dance, puppets, scenes and "whatever" into a fifty-minute performance of live vignettes.

Under the direction of Ms. Linda Shuler, the troupe perfected its skills as the year progressed. RAZZ remained very busy throughout the school year, particularly at Christmas time. The performers brought joy and laughter to many elementary school students, churches, community organizations and underprivileged children.

They also had the opportunity to perform for the Texas Educational Theatre Association, and a Thespian conference. RAZZ is a fully accredited drama class, and holds auditions for students interested in drama and theatre twice a year.

Dramalee Shows Off

Dramalee had another successful season under the direction of Ms. Linda Shuler. Dramalee is open to the entire student body for anyone interested in drama or the arts. Outstanding Dramalee members who met the proper requirements belonged to the drama honor society called Thespian. Members enjoyed numerous parties, seminars, workshops, field trips and art events throughout the year.

In the spring, members presented "The Wiz" for both the school and community.

After a most successful year, Dramalee held its annual banquet where Masquer Awards for best actor and actress, supporting actor and actress, minor character, and Super Tech are given.

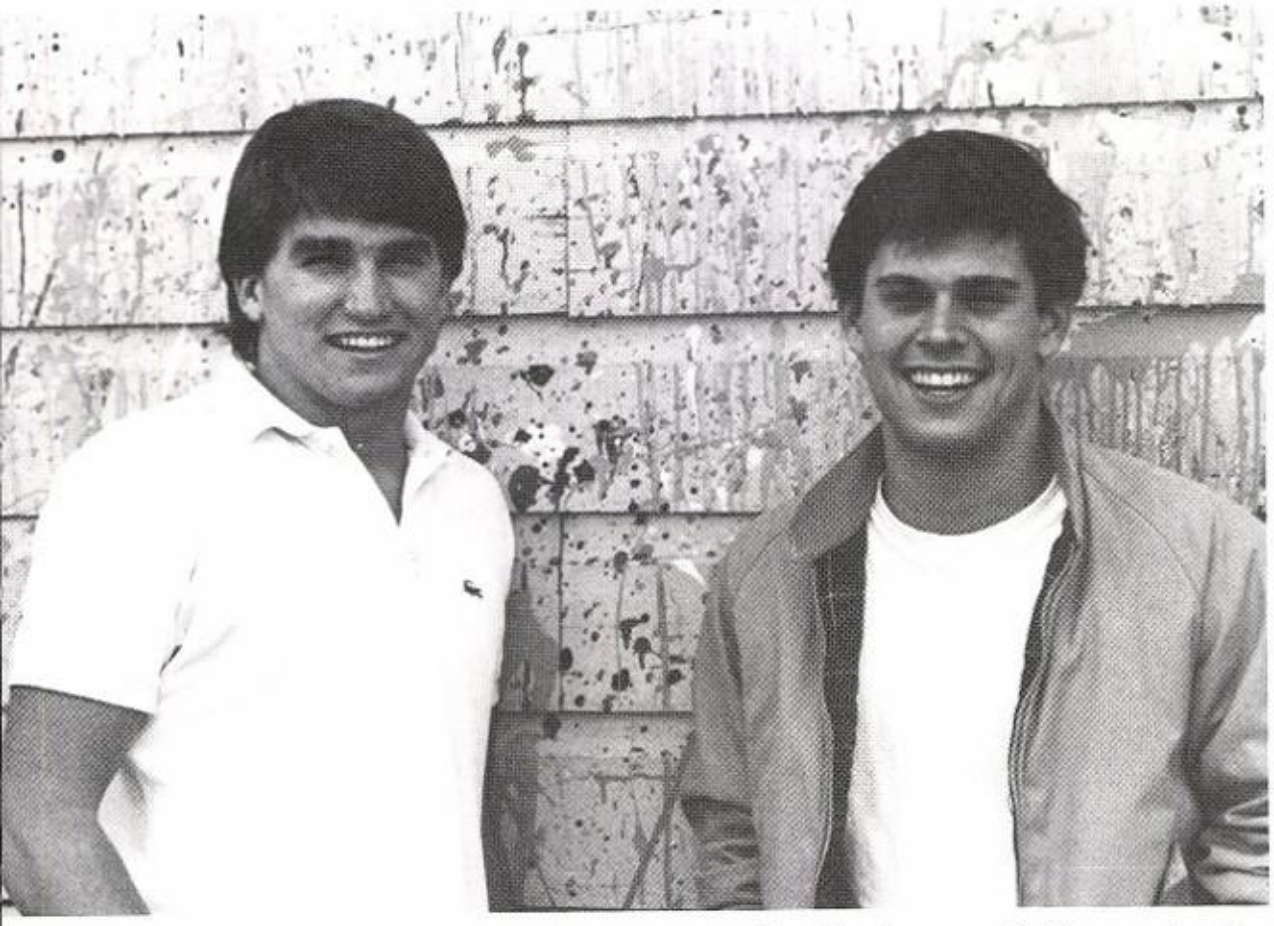
Students Look Closely



After their trip to Washington D.C., Jay Greer and John Shepherd are certain that one day they will occupy the Oval Office.

Under the direction of Dr. Burton Parks, Close-Up Club gave students an opportunity to observe, experience, and intensely study our national government. Members met twice a month to discuss national problems and issues. The meetings prepared students for the annual trip to Washington D.C. the last week in February. The trip was sponsored by the Close-Up Foundation. Twenty-nine seniors enjoyed seven days of touring the nation's capital, talking to Senators, Representatives and other key officials of the Reagan Administration.

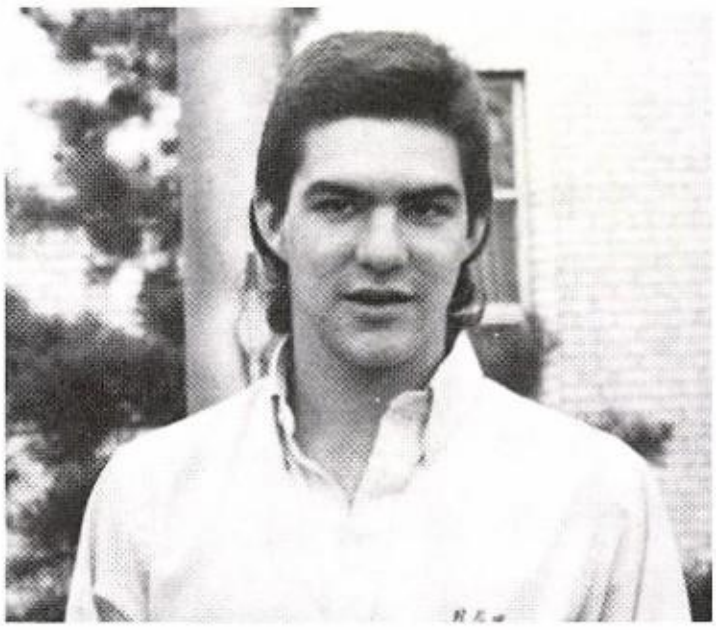
Country Club Retreats



Outdoorsman, Louis Hamilton, established Country Club.

A new organization was formed this year under the leadership of Dr. Burton Parks. The Country Club was founded by four high school men for the sole purpose of outdoor enjoyment. Members participated in monthly camping trips to various camping sites and parks. Meetings were held every two weeks to plan upcoming trips. Membership into the Country Club was open to all sophomore, junior and senior men who were interested in a wilderness experience. The Country Club was also involved in school service which entailed the upkeep of school grounds.

Write On

Skilled seniors on both THE SABER and Traveler staffs were once again united in the honor society for outstanding high school journalists, Quill and Scroll. Extremely active at school and in the community, members enriched the lives of others through fine political essays and words of Wisdom. Members spent endless hours in the library researching and discussing national issues in order to become more well-rounded individuals. Eighteen holes on the SABER golf course while reading An Essay on Man offered recreational relief for exhausted scroll members. These creative outspoken leaders are certain to leave their mark in the world of literature.

Classes

The individual classes of Lee represented unique groups of students. Some were just beginning their high school experience, while others were nearing their final days in General territory. The different personalities, interests, and appearances of students came together to form the complete student body of Lee.

"We were planning to have a great Senior year, but ol' Ross found out and . . .," explain denied Seniors Barbara Blades and Katharine Bryan.

Irrepressible

It happened on an autumn day,
Something never seen before,
A group of brains and brawn arrived
Through the sacred Lee High doors.

This class would see some changes,
But still they'd keep their cool.
They climbed to the top of the ladder
To accept their Senior Rule.

With talent, this class was gifted,
In school and sport, the same.
We'd always do the best we could
To make "A's" or win the game.

But we spent some time at Gingi,
And some at the famed Hon Le.
The "Partying Studs of '85"
Is what we'll always be.

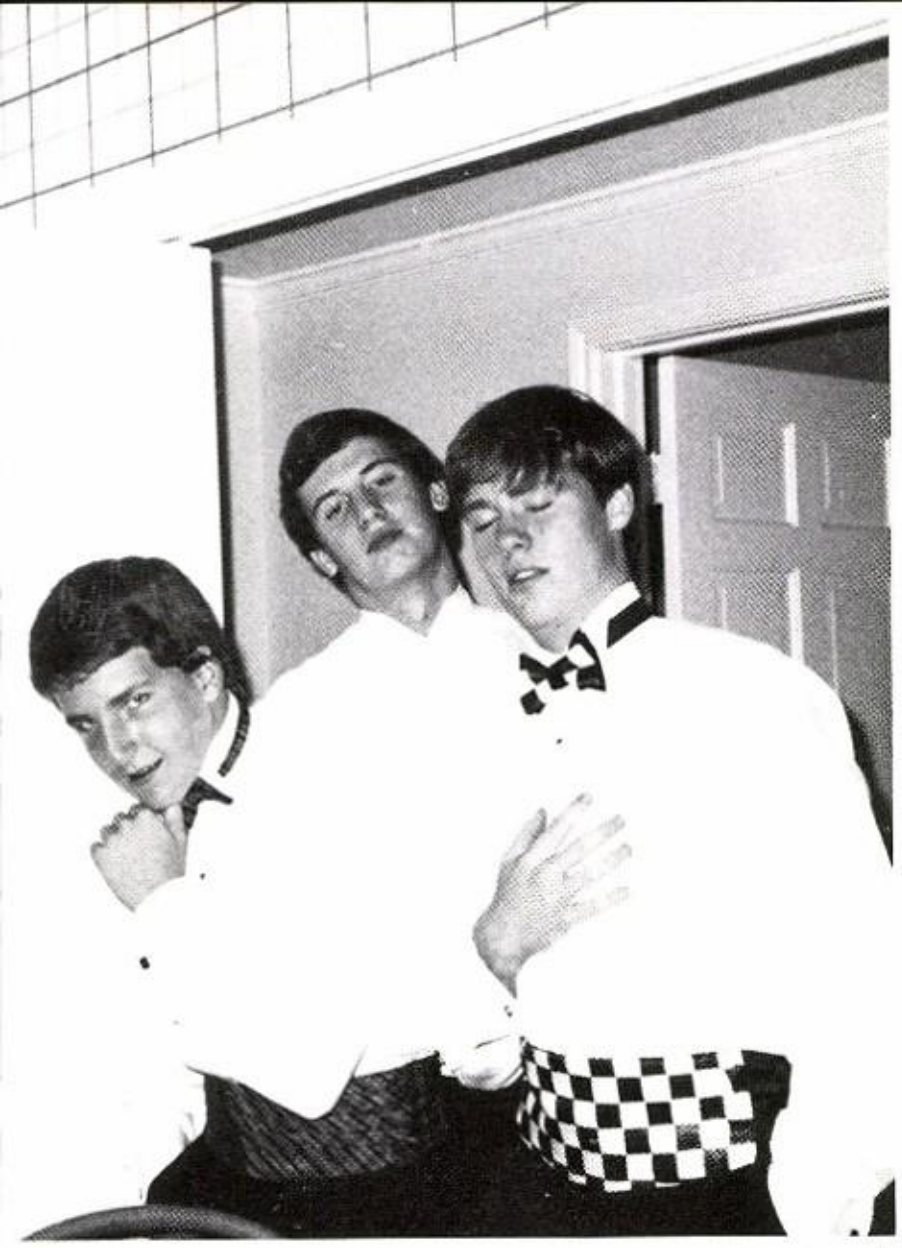
Class of '86

CLASS OFFICERS — Kendall Griffith, Historian; Brooke Wright, Treasurer; Jana Jones, Secretary; Matt Blackman, President; Meredith McKay Vice President.

With time passing by, it grew harder and harder to grab a single moment and hold it to keep. Being a Junior meant there was only one more year until high school was over and one more year before the real world would welcome them with responsibilities otherwise unknown. Juniors yearned for freedom yet learned to love and appreciate the carefree lives they led. Adulthood was upon them and high school, the initiation to life, was becoming more and more enjoyable.



"If they ask us for our I.D.'s everybody strike their assigned pose," orders mature James McKissick to Carleton Riser and Will Frederking.

"This is what a week of school does for me," snarls a disgusted Laurie Erdeljac.

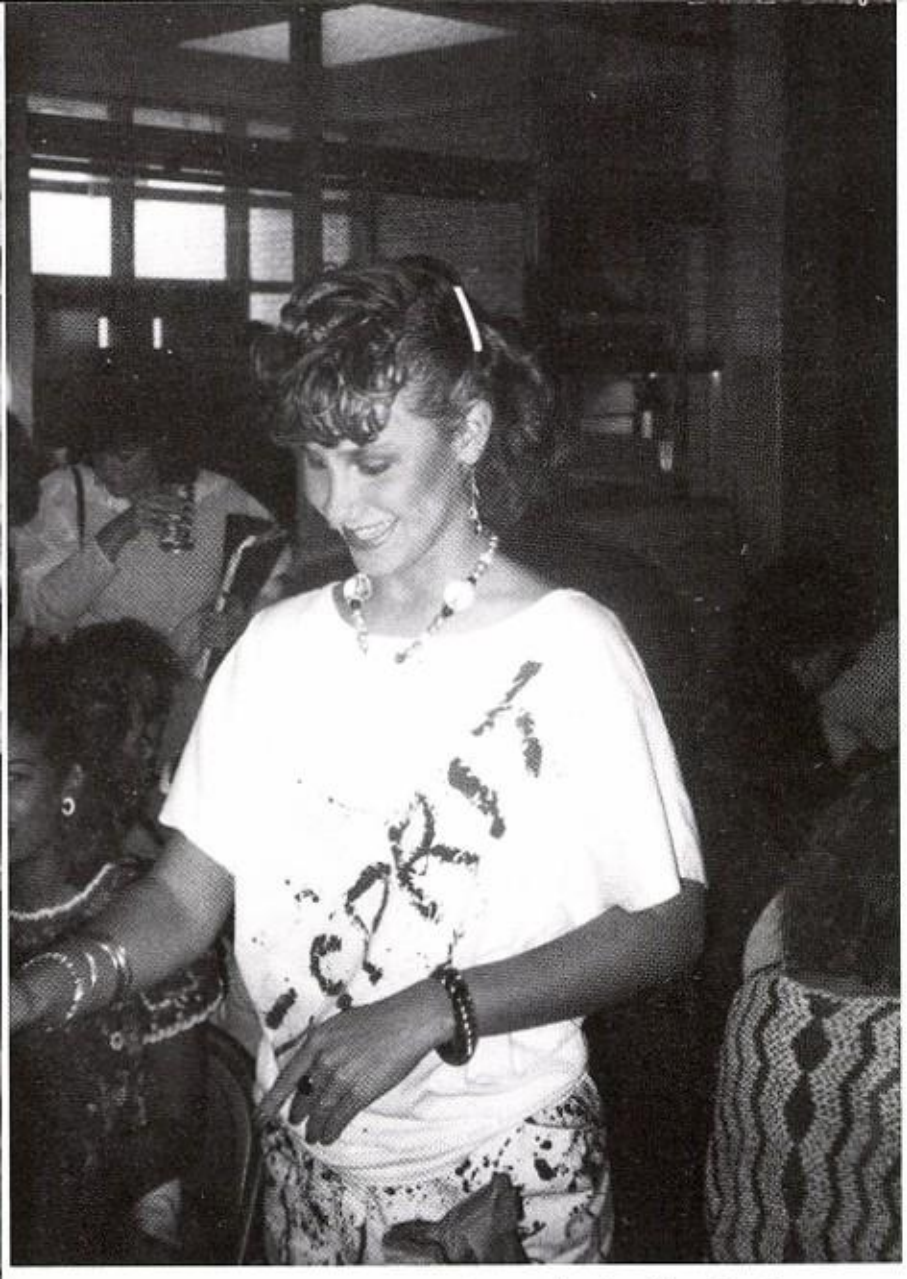
Class of '88

President, Shannon Mulligan; Secretary, Tracie Creel; Treasurer, Kelly McCormick; Vice President, Troy Pidgeon.



Liz Deane is in ecstasy as she touches her first Senior.

As the new members approach Lee, its ominous doors open to reveal a whole new life. From the treacherous homework to the greatly anticipated late-night parties, the new members find excitement as well as enrichment. Along with the homework and parties come life-long friendships. Through their experiences at Lee, Freshmen learn, live, and grow.

Kristin Berly shows us the 18 hour look, while Helen Vaughan, Tracy Jones, and Tracie Creel are green with envy.

Senior Honors, Ads, Index

Finally, the time had come for the class of '85 to move on into the next phase of their lives. Acceptances to colleges aroused excitement for many students. Involvement of the Seniors resulted in growth of their individual characteristics which would benefit their near future. Looking back, Seniors had only memories of friendships and relationships that would last forever.

So often I sit and think about the things were:
the fun and friends,
the joy we all had
and the times of just being together . . .
Of course there were some days,
times we wondered how we made it.
But our friendship helped us through.
Now we may be separated,
but the bond is still there.
Friendship holds us together.

Left: "What GQ men we are!" think Danny Copeland, Jeff Nalley, and John Glidden, while Kirstin Torgerson can only smirk sarcastically.

Middle: "I don't know about you, Allison, but I think he's mighty fine!" states an all-knowing Barbara White to a bewildered Allison Browne.

Far Right: "Care to join me?" screams freshman Tracy Creel, every boy's ideal of a dreamgirl.

Right: Lyle Milstead thinks he's in the limelight with Erin McCormick, but she can only hope that she hasn't picked a real lemon.

Middle: "Take a look at this shot, dude," says an experienced Louis Hamilton to a dreamy David Zarr, as Matt Marion tries to look for the real thing.

Far Left: Cindy Cohen, Ashley Cook, and Amy Miracle want to know how come Becky Van Meter is the only one who gets a hooter.

Right: Bed buddies John Glidden, Jeff Filgo, Greg Gilliam, and Jay Greer practice for the upcoming night's events.

Middle: Bogus Boys Matt Blackmon and Jeff Filgo try their best to live up to cool Charlie (Fred) Zander's standards.

Far Right: "Do you think we're being a little bit too obvious?" asks a laughing Mark Provine to Duffie Sharpe in their quest for some chicks.

Young Conservatives of Texas 169

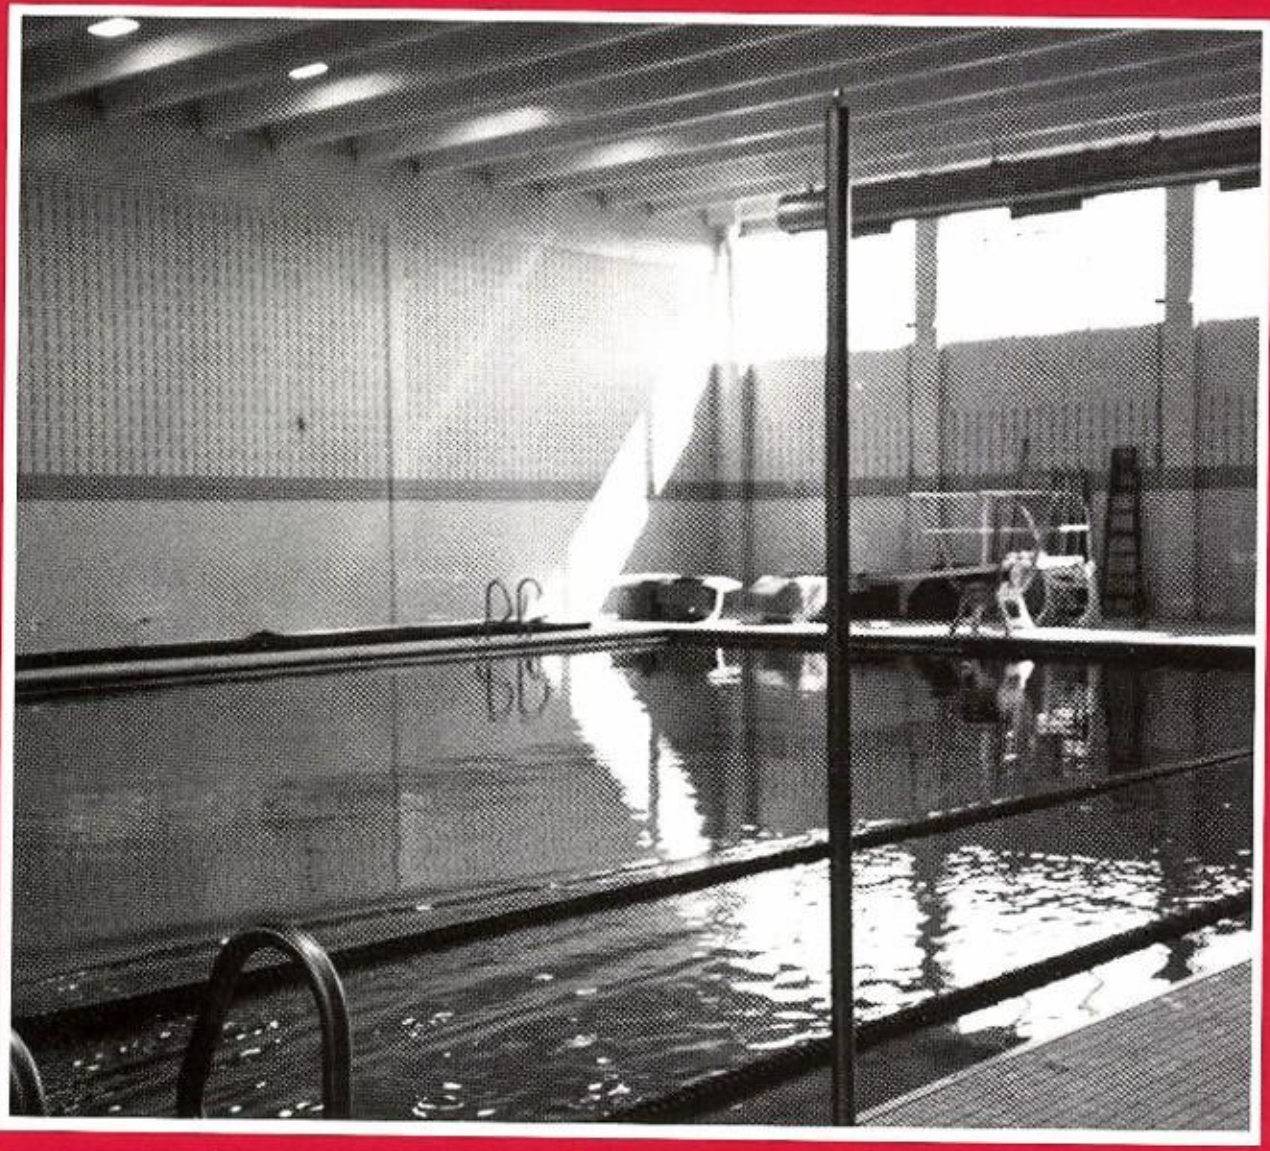
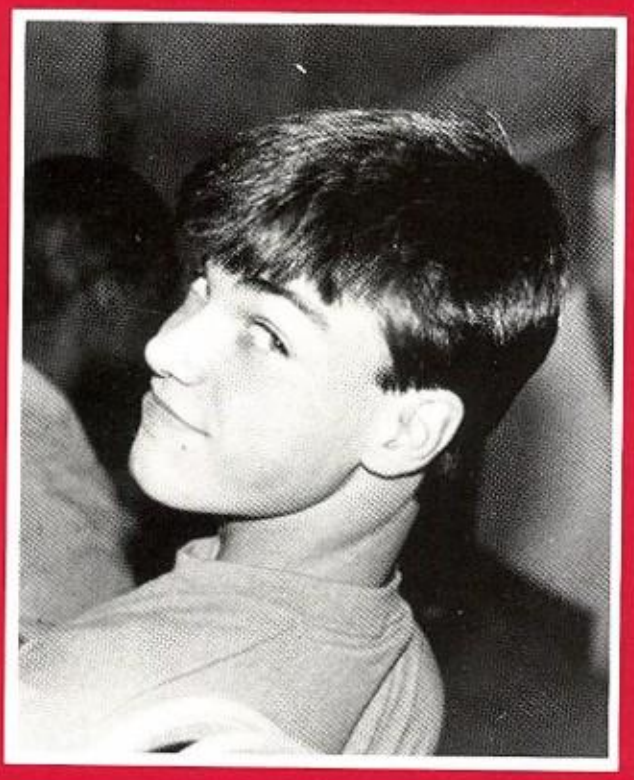
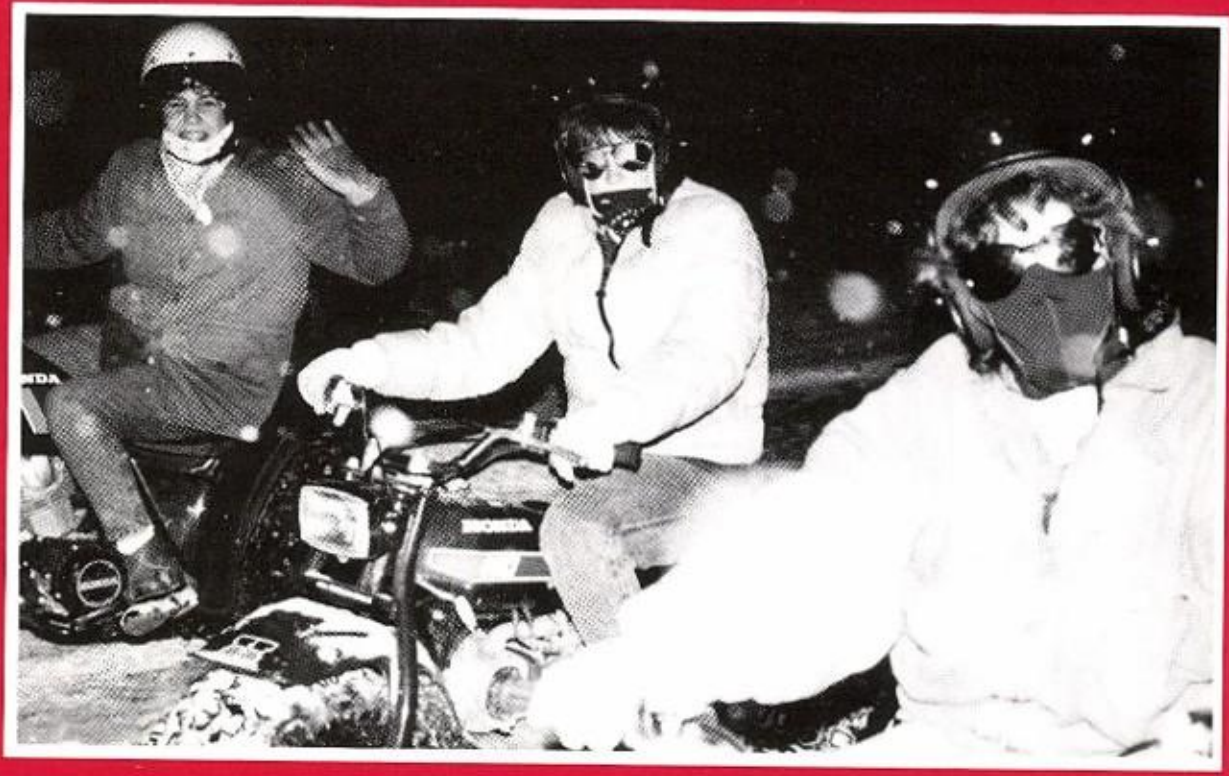
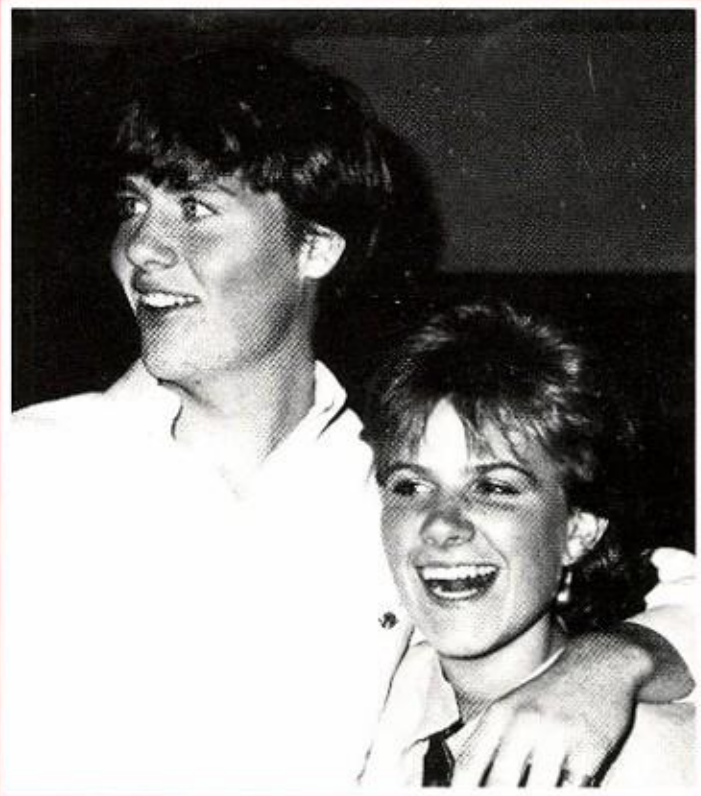
As the curtain of 1984-85 was pulled open, Ronald Reagan was inaugurated into his second term as President of the United States. The election was a landslide, and left Americans with positive outlooks.

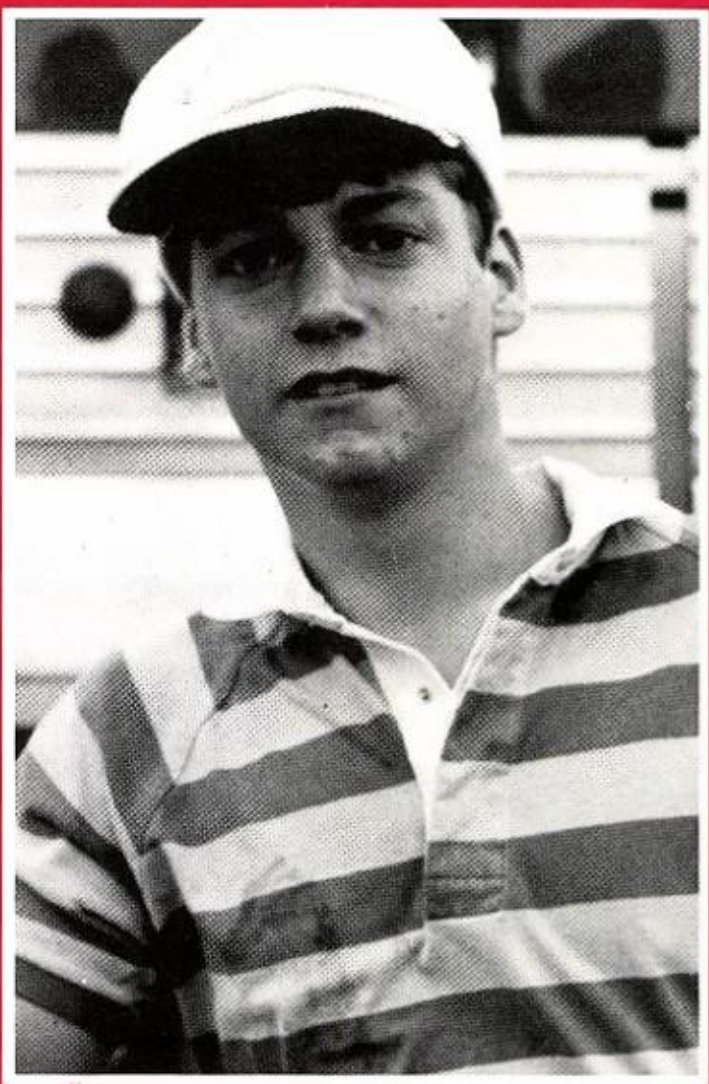
Another special experience for Houstonians was to see white flakes blanket the city. Yes, it actually snowe in Houston, and not just once, but sever times. In the middle of February the fir phase of construction was completed wit Lee's first swimming pool, a new gyn and health classrooms. This was not th end of the year's excitement.



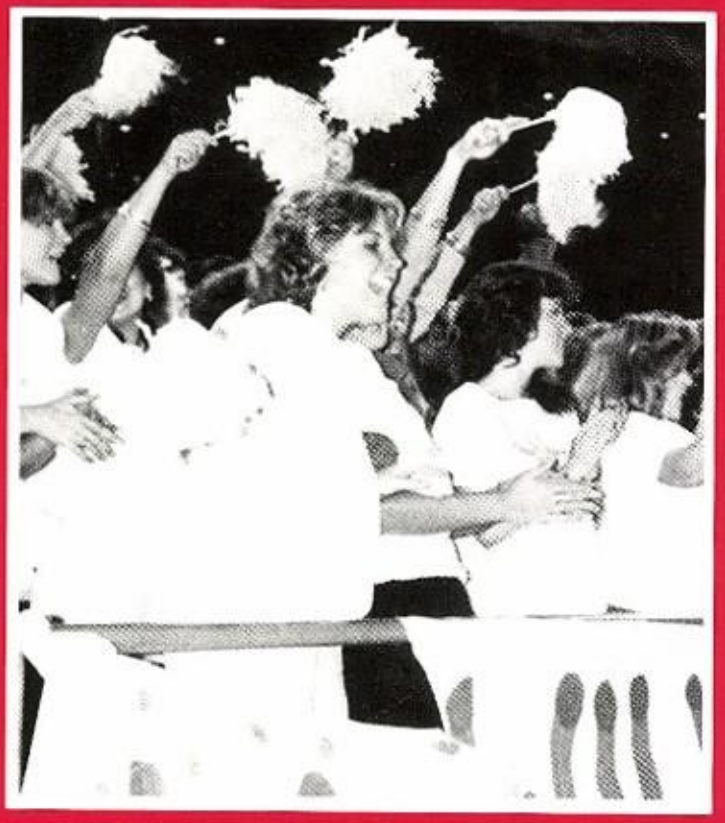


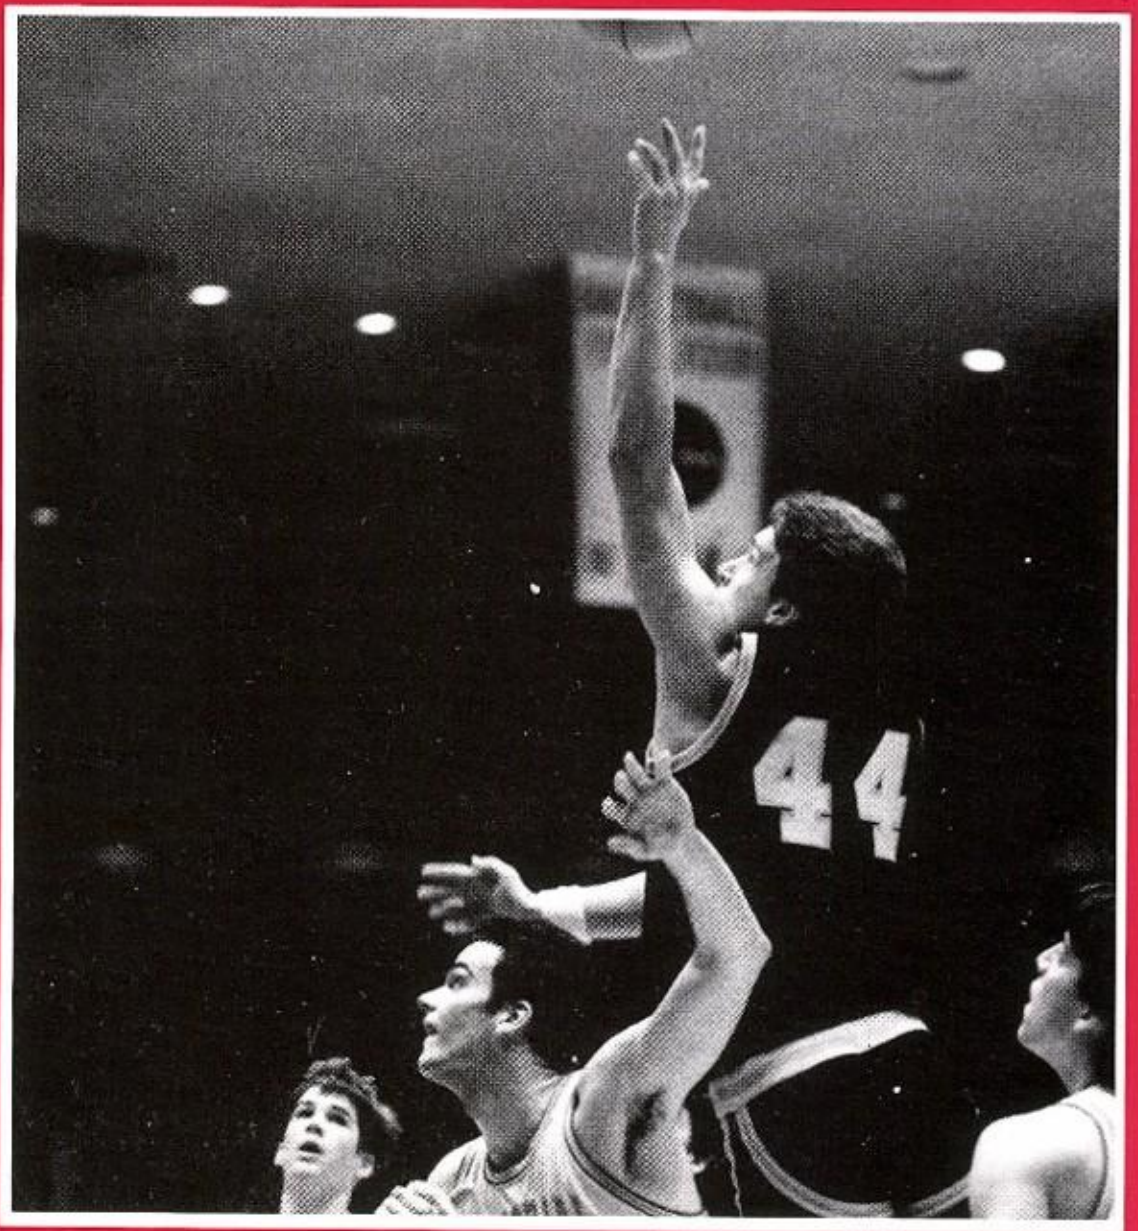






The 1984-85 Varsity Basketball team of Lee made history. For the first time at Lee the Varsity team went all the way to the playoffs. General spirit soared as students and teachers alike supported the team to the end. The team set an outstanding example by establishing a goal and striving until it was reached. In many areas throughout the year, Generals were Going For The Gold.





To the Staff of 1985: Congratulations on the outstanding job on the SABER 1985! To the entire staff — thanks for your persistence through deadlines and many hours of hard work which definitely proved worthwhile. To Miz Wiz — all my deepest appreciation for your special guidance. To Erik — many thanks for always being willing to help. I am so grateful for each one of you and I sincerely appreciate your dedication in producing this book.

Keep going for the gold — and be extremely proud of your creation of Lee in 1985!

Love,
